Operations in the Gulf of Salonica Successful—Ten Thousand Turks Rushed Off to the Macedonian Coast to Prevent a Flank Attack—Fighting in the Olive Groves Near Prevesa—Floods Check the Advance of a Brigade—Formidable Resistance to the Moslems at Tyrnovo—More Troops Called For—Minister Skouzes Explains the Situation—Women Enlisting as Volunteers—Inhabitants of Kafi and Kosnizadason Take to Flight—News from Crete—Miles's Application.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.]
WASHINGTON, April 23.—Secretary Sherman received a cablegram from Minister Terrell at Constantinople under date of yesterday, stating that Osman Pasha, the old hero of the Turkish defense at Plevna, left Constantinople last night to assume command of the Turkish army in the field. The cablegram is regarded here as significant of some change of plans on the part of the Turks.

MORE RESERVES CALLED OUT.
CONSTANTINOPLE, April 23.—(Afternoon.) An additional force of 20,000 or army reserves has been called out to reinforce the Turkish troops operating against the Greeks. They consist of the Koniah Brigade from Cesaria and a detachment from Smyrna belonging to the Third Army Corps. These men run the total up to seventy-two additional battalions of troops, numbering 50,400 men.

It is now definitely announced that Osman Pasha, the hero of Plevna, has been appointed commander-in-chief of the Turkish army having its headquarters at Ellassona. Edhem Pasha has been recalled. In addition, it is said, Edin Pasha has been appointed to the command of the Turkish army having its headquarters at Janina, replacing Ahmed Higi Pasha who is also recalled. The new commanders start for their posts this evening.

SANTA QUARANTA BOMBARDED.

High-pressure Cannonading from the Hellespont Warships.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.]
ATHENS, April 24.—1:30 a.m.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The western squadron which bombarded Santa Quaranta left Corfu yesterday (Friday) morning. Immediately on arriving at the Bay of Santa Quaranta, the line of battle was taken up, the warships spreading out in fan shape, with the torpedo boats occupying the outlying points with the advantage of fire.

The cannonade opened in the liveliest fashion, and continued at high pressure for two hours. The great destructiveness of the shells was soon observed in the dismantling of buildings in every direction, while flames burst out in many places. The fire of the Greek gunners was excellent and there was no waste of ammunition.

GOVERNMENT BUILDINGS DESTROYED.

CORFU, April 23.—The western Greek squadron is bombarding the Santo Quaranta and doing great damage to the town. All the government and private buildings have been destroyed with the exception of the Austrian agency. The store and merchandise on the quays have been burned. Fifty refugees who had embarked on ships have been landed here.

GREEKS OCCUPY KARYA.

SALONICA, April 23.—The news is received here that on Tuesday a fierce battle occurred and that the Greeks occupied Karyia. Fighting continues along the line.

OFF TO THE WAR.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 23.—Ghezie Osman Pasha, who is to succeed Edhem Pasha as commander-in-chief of the Turkish army in Thessaly, started with his suite for the frontier this evening.

Said Ed Din Pasha, who has been appointed to command the Turkish troops at Janina, in Epirus, started for the frontier with his suite this evening.

HIGHLY CRITICAL.

Those in Authority at Athens not Exhilarated by Success.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.]
LONDON, April 23.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The Athens correspondent of the Times says tomorrow: "Those in authority here regard the situation as highly critical, despite the favorable news from Epirus. Fighting continues at Matli. The Crown Prince Constantine has ordered his troops to maintain a strictly defensive attitude. A portion of the western squadron has been detached to bombard the fortress Hargia opposite Pax Island."

CALLING OUT RESERVES.

ATHENS, April 23.—It has been decided to call out several companies of the Landwehr, or militia. In Greece all able-bodied males from 21 years upward are liable to be called upon for military service. The total service is for nineteen years, or which two years (with considerable terms of leaves of absence) must be passed with the colors and seven years are then passed in the reserve, and the remainder of the total term of nineteen years is passed in the militia, or Landwehr.

TURKS CHECKED BY FLOODS.
CONSTANTINOPLE, April 22.—[Delayed in transmission.] It is stated here that one of the Turkish brigades which pushed forward on the plains of Larissa, has been unable to advance further, owing to floods caused by rains and consequent rise of the River Salambria. Edhem Pasha telegraphed, asking for the immediate dispatch of pontoons to enable troops to cross the river, the Greeks having blown up the bridges. The reports had a very depressing effect here when taken in conjunction with the formidable resistance which the Turks have met with around Tyrnovo.

AN OFFICIAL NOTE.

Minister Skouzes Explains the Condition of Affairs.

LONDON, April 23.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The Greek Charge d'Affaires here has received a dispatch dated Athens, today, giving the exact situation on the Thessalian frontier from a Greek standpoint. It is as follows: "In Thessaly, in the direction of Revent and Boughasi, our forces have penetrated into Turkish territory and advanced toward Damasi. All attacks of the enemy have been repulsed in the direction of Grizoval. Our army occupied a strong position at Matli, where there has been fighting since yesterday. The Turkish attacks have been repulsed. The Greeks had to retire from Nezeros, falling back on the bank of the Derchi, a strong position, which they are now defending."

"In Epirus our army is advancing and has captured Fort Imaret, Philippa and several villages. The Greeks have also occupied Salagora, capturing three cannon, a number of guns and a quantity of ammunition and provisions."

(Signed) "SKOUZES,"
"ONE FROM THE PORTE."

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 23.—The Turkish government yesterday issued the following statement: "The reconnaissance, with a force of infantry, six batteries of artillery and a cavalry division, enabled Naim Pasha to occupy a position with eight battalions and some field batteries opposite the Greek forces centered south of the Milouma and Silouva Pass. Naim Pasha, with twelve battalions, advanced toward Noraly, on the plain in front to threaten the retreat of the Greeks at Koskrena."

"Naim Pasha defeated the Greeks and occupied the important heights of the Milouma and Silouva Pass. Naim Pasha captured the fortified summits of Gordanan and Garbika, commanding the passes."

TURKISH STORES TAKEN.

Greek Warships Capture a Rich Prize on Salonica Bay.

ATHENS, April 23.—3 a.m.—[By Atlantic Cable.] After the bombardment of Katriona on the Gulf of Salonica by the Greek squadron which put to flight two battalions of Turks and the inhabitants of that place, the Greek fleet landed a detachment and found the Turks had left behind immense stores of provisions destined for the armies of Edhem Pasha. These valuable stores had been left unprotected in the belief by the Turks that the blockade of Greece by the fleets of the powers would prevent the Greek fleet from attacking Turkish towns in the Gulf of Salonica, which is near the railroad to Salonica and which has been used as a point to land stores for the Turkish army and forward them to the front.

The capture of these stores, not to mention the loss of the towns, places a serious difficulty in the path of Edhem Pasha, and it is stated here that as soon as the Turkish commander-in-chief heard the news of the capture of Katriona and Katriona he dispatched 10,000 men toward the coast of Macedonia, fearing a flank attack from the Gulf of Salonica. The Greek fleet, in returning from the capture of Katriona, bombarded the port of Litchora.

A dispatch from Larissa says that yesterday, after the Greeks fortified Mayrechori, to which place they retreated after evacuating Nezeros, they reoccupied Ratzina and Heganika, which were abandoned by the Greeks and the Turks failed to occupy.

FRESH BOMBARDMENT.

CORFU, April 23.—The western Greek squadron of warships suspended the bombardment of Prevesa, a Turkish position north of the entrance to the Gulf of Arta, and left this morning for Santa Quaranta. On arrival there, the war vessels began bombarding the Turkish blockhouse.

FIGHTING IN OLIVE GROVES.

LONDON, April 23.—According to a dispatch from Athens, fighting occurred in the olive groves near Prevesa between Turks and native Christians. The Greek forces, it is added, while on the way to Filiada, passed a number of charred corpses. The inhabitants of Lakka and Hamarin have risen against the Greeks and welcomed the Turks with enthusiasm.

QUIET BUT DISMAYED.

LONDON, April 23.—The Athens correspondent of the Daily Chronicle says that the Crown Prince Constantine wired to King George as follows: "The Turks are quiet today, owing to our success yesterday (Thursday). We have destroyed the Turkish battery at Algeria. The Turks have retired from Nezeros and Rapsani. The action of our fleet at Katriona was excellent. I was in the first line of fire yesterday."

The correspondent of the Chronicle says: "The Turks are greatly dismayed by the destruction of their stores at Katriona and at Litochon. Commodore Sachtouris destroyed the stores from the coast to the foot of Mt. Olympus. Nothing remains, therefore, for Edhem Pasha to carry away but his own baggage and his private property. The only remaining road from Salonica is the Ferri road, eight days from Ellassona. The reports of the injury to the railway line by the blowing-up of bridges and a tunnel are confirmed."

"Financially, everything is going well, and the value of paper money has risen. It is reported here (Athens) that the Turkish troops will be withdrawn from Crete. Private advices from Volo say that all the villages between Katerina and Veria have risen. "Among the wounded who have arrived here are several who state that a number of Greeks, wounded at Grizoval and unable to follow the Greek retreat, were shut up in a small church by the Turks who set fire to the building and burned them to death."

TO ATTACK SALONICA.

The Victorious Invaders Pushing on from Karyia.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.]
LONDON, April 23.—A dispatch to the Daily News from Larissa, dated Wednesday, says the Greeks are about to assume the offensive against Vigla and Salonica; that the Greeks have occupied Karyia, and that the Turks have suffered severe reverses.

EVEN THE WOMEN.

Volo Will Furnish Volunteers Against the Barbarians.

ATHENS, April 23.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The excitement here continues to be most intense. Advices received here today from Volo say that even the women are arming themselves to do battle with the Turks.

VOLUNTEER NURSES.

PARIS, April 23.—A number of ladies have offered their services as nurses with the Greek legation here in the fields. No funds are available to pay for their journey to Greece.

FROM ABOVE LARISSA.

Description of the Turkish Assault by G. W. Stevens.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.]
NEW YORK, April 23.—The Journal and Advertiser this morning prints as special from London the following dispatches from G. W. Stevens to the London Mail describing the fighting at Milouma Pass:

"The Turks have now succeeded in forcing back the Greeks from their position on the heights above Tyrnovo and are now preparing for the final advance on Larissa. About 4 o'clock the inhabitants of Tyrnovo could be seen leaving the town and retreating in wild confusion along the Larissa road. The Greek troops fell back in good order and occupied, with four batteries of artillery, the low hill between Tyrnovo and Larissa. There they prepared to offer further resistance."

"While they were deploying their guns and taking the range, several battalions of Turkish infantry, with five batteries of artillery, moved slowly down the slopes of Milouma Pass toward the plain. Their object was to support the force of cavalry engaged in making a reconnaissance. Hubert the ground had been too uneven to employ cavalry, but now that we are gaining the famous plain of Thessaly, the Turkish mounted men will be kept hard at work. They are well-mounted, keen and eager to bear their full share of the defense of the country. Indeed, the spirit of our troops is above all reproach."

"Presently our artillery halted, unlimbered on the Greek side, and a vigorous artillery duel commenced. The spectacle was a magnificent one from the heights, which seemed to have been expressly designed to serve as an amphitheater. We looked down on the battle raging at our feet, and were close to Marshal Edhem Pasha and his staff, while in all directions the hills were crowded with Turkish soldiers, gazing wistfully at the fight. The marshal and his officers were of the opinion that the Milouma Pass was in the hands of the Greeks. Edhem Pasha's plans have hitherto been crowned with complete success."

"Below us were serpentine lines of bayonets glinting in the sunlight and standing out from the deep green of the plains, and the dull brown of the rocky hillsides. They moved with even cadence toward Tyrnovo. From the month of the guns in action below came jets of fire and spurts of white smoke or gray dust, as the recoil of the weapons tore up the ground. Here and there shells were bursting. Few reached our men, however, the distance was too great, and we suffered but little, though I saw a few men knocked over by bursting shrapnel, and there were several narrow escapes. More than once a shell exploded within a very few yards of our regiments without doing any harm, but splinters and shrapnel have come uncomfortably near. The hill from which the Greeks are firing lies about half-way between this place and Larissa."

"Soon the Turkish batteries limbered up, finding that the shells dropped short, and moved up and then opened up again. Its fire was better directed than that of the Greeks. Our infantry gave its support and commenced a furious fire, to which the Greeks replied."

"The aim of Edhem Pasha is not as yet to fight a decisive battle. He has a strategic scheme of the utmost importance, holding the Greeks in front, while in lines parallel to our advance his other columns move forward by Damasi or Tyrnovo. He has also ascertained the strength of the Greeks. Our troops are now fast converging on Tyrnovo, and we shall probably occupy the town tonight. From the position we now occupy, Larissa, with its houses embosomed amid the green trees and glistening in the sun as I send this dispatch."

FLYING MUSSULMANS.

ARTA, April 22.—[Delayed in transmission.]—6 p.m.—The Turks have abandoned Kafi and Kosnizadason on the left bank of Arachphos. The inhabitants left precipitately, abandoning their belongings. All along the route to Fort Imaret (captured by the Greeks) there were evidences of hasty flight of the Turkish households. The belongings of the Turks were everywhere scattered about.

The prefect of Arta has reached Filiplada. He was received with acclamation by the population. A number of Greek wounded have been brought to Filiplada. The dead were left unburied along the route.

Information which the Attorney-General could furnish on the subject had already been furnished to the Senate. The Attorney-General could by law only give his legal opinion to the President.

Mr. Bailey supported Mr. Bland, contending that the Attorney-General might go further than he did in recommending to the Senate resolutions. The debate was brought to an abrupt close by the interposition of a point of order that the motion to lay the appeal on the table was not debatable.

Mr. Richardson (Tennessee) (Dem.) sharply contended that an appeal was always debatable, and it would not be cut off unless the floor was yielded for the motion to lay the motion on the table. The Speaker resolutely reaffirmed his decision.

The House could not, he declared, be placed at the mercy of anyone. If there was a desire to hear the appeal debated, the House had it in its power to vote down the motion. The appeal was laid on the table by 37 to 22, without a vote.

On motion of Mr. Robinson of Indiana, Mr. Bland of Missouri was added to the committee to attend the Holman obsequies.

The House then went into committee of the whole and resumed consideration of the Senate amendment to the Indian Appropriation Bill. The pending amendment was that relating to the opening of the Uncompahgre reservation.

Mr. Cooper of Wisconsin (Rep.) contended that members of Congress sat here as trustees of the interests of the government, and that they would be derelict to their duty if they gave away these deposits, worth millions of dollars, for practically nothing.

Mr. Cooper read a letter from an Indian agent at which, who said the Governor of Utah, the Secretary of State, the State Treasurer, Senator Brown and other public officials had, through the State Land Inspector, as agents, filed claims on the reservation March 4, when it was presumed the Indian Appropriation Bill had been signed by President Cleveland.

These speculators were, Mr. Cooper said, all ready to jump the moment the reservation was opened.

And yet, the Indian agent talked about depriving the poor prospectors of their opportunities.

Mr. Lacey of Iowa (Rep.) offered a Senate substitute which would instruct the conferees to insist upon a provision to lease the gilsonite lands with such limitations as would prevent its control.

Mr. Shadforth of Colorado (Silver Republican) protested against a change of policy toward mineral lands, and said that the value of the deposits was greatly exaggerated.

Mr. Maguire of California (Dem.) opposed the amendment. The policy pursued toward the natural resources of the country had resulted in their monopoly.

Mr. Bartholdt of Missouri (Rep.) in supporting the motion to concur in the Senate amendment, contended that the St. Louis company which controlled gilsonite mines in the vicinity of the Uncompahgre reservation did not desire any of the lands.

Mr. Fleming of Georgia (Dem.) maintained that the Indians had an extinguished right in the lands until they were allotted accepted lands elsewhere. He offered an amendment to reserve to the Indians the lands in the vicinity of the reservation.

Mr. Bailey offered an amendment by which the lands were to be opened on the signing of the bill, speculators who had agents in Washington would secure them all through their advance information. Mr. Dingley said the question at issue was as to whether, in this particular case, the law applied to mineral lands should apply. This was the only large gilsonite deposit in the country.

If the royalty obtained by Great Britain on an oil shale land in Trinidad were obtained the government would profit to the extent of $300,000,000. If these lands were thrown open to individual entry, it would result in the transfer of individual rights in the creation of a monopoly which could put up the price.

At Mr. Dingley's suggestion, Mr. Fleming withdrew his amendment. Mr. Bailey offered an amendment which was voted down by 40 to 70, to grant the lands in the vicinity of the State of Indiana for educational purposes. The proposition of Mr. Lacey then prevailed without division.

When the Senate amendment to strike out the Indians' right to ratify the gas and oil leases of the Seneca Indians was reached, C. W. Stone of Pennsylvania, (Rep.) moved to concur. He announced in his remarks the methods by which it is alleged the lease was obtained from the Indians. The motion to concur was defeated by a vote of 100 to 90, which was equivalent to agreeing to a motion to non-concur.

The amendment qualifying the right of children of Indian and white man to inherit by requiring the consent of a majority of the members of the tribe was also non-concurrent. The committee on Indian Affairs were agreed to.

When the committee of the whole made its report to the House under the threat of no quorum, the motion to the conferees relative to the Uncompahgre reservation were not pressed with the understanding, however, that this question should come separately before the House.

The House bill was then sent to conference. Messrs. Sherman of New York, Curtis of Kansas and Allen of Mississippi being appointed conferees.

Under the resolution adopted earlier in the day the Speaker appointed the following conferees to attend the Grant tomb dedication exercises at New York: The Speaker, Messrs. Lowe, Cummings, Payne, McClellan, Dingley, Bailey, Mitchell, Dabell, Allen, Burton, Hartman, Mercer, Walker of Virginia, McCleary, Brewer, Overstreet, Fitzpatrick, Sulway, Dismore, Bartholdt, Tate and Ridgely of Kansas.

At 4 o'clock the House adjourned until Monday.

APPOINTMENTS.

The President Will Honor Day and Storror with High Offices.

WASHINGTON, April 23.—President McKinley has decided to nominate William R. Day of Canton to be First Assistant Secretary of State, and ex-Representative Bellamy Storror of Cincinnati to be Minister to Belgium. The nominations were to have been sent to the Senate today, but that body adjourned until Monday.

DAY AND MCKENNA. CHICAGO, April 23.—A special to the Times-Herald from Washington, D. C., says that although President McKinley has made no disclosures concerning the matter so far as is known, there is an understanding that when the first vacancy occurs upon the Supreme Bench, Atty.-Gen. McKenna will be appointed to a place in the court and Judge William R. Day of Canton, O., will be his successor.

Justice Day was one of Mr. McKinley's first choices for a seat in the Cabinet, but Day, who is responsible to the heirs of his wife's father for the management of their estate, which has for some time been anything but a satisfactory condition, did not feel that he could take either this post or that of Solicitor-General, which he was urged to accept.

It is well known that Atty.-Gen. McKenna prefers to be on the bench, and now that Judge Day has succeeded in relieving himself of a large part of the responsibility concerning the property belonging to his wife's father, it is believed he will accept the nomination to the Supreme Court.

Judge McKenna, it has been remarked, goes to the Supreme Court to the proceedings. Among his intimate friends there is an understanding that he expects to go on the bench within a year or two in a case there should be a vacancy. Whether or not Justice Field will be willing to retire next August, when his term of service will exceed that of Chief Justice Marshall, remains to be seen.

Among his colleagues on the bench there is a belief that Judge Field has no intention of retiring, and that he will die in harness.

UPSETS THE CUBAN MISSION. WASHINGTON, April 23.—The selection of Judge Day to be First Assistant Secretary of State overturns the plan of the President to send him to Cuba as special commissioner to watch the prosecution of the Ruiz investigation.

It would be without precedent for such an official as the First Assistant Secretary of State to go to another country to prosecute a case, when later on he might have to engage in diplomatic negotiations with that same country on other subjects.

At any rate, the conviction that the pursuit of the original mission by Judge Day would impair his usefulness in the future as an official of the State Department has led to the cancellation of the order to go to Cuba. Whether any official as the First Assistant Secretary of State to go to another country to prosecute a case, when later on he might have to engage in diplomatic negotiations with that same country on other subjects.

BARRY SET THE PACE

HE IS GIVEN THE DECISION OVER ANTHONY.

The American Nearly Tired Himself Out So Rapidly Did He Work His Antagonist.

AUSTRALIA HAS A SORE NOSE.

LIKEWISE A COUPLE OF DARK-COLORED OPTICS.

Bicycleist Len's Death Unavenged. The Englishman's Semichy Held-New Athletic Union.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.) SAN FRANCISCO, April 23.—Five thousand people saw Jimmy Barry of Chicago and Jimmy Anthony of Australia, bantam weights, fight twenty rounds before the National Athletic Club, the organization that conducted the Fitzsimmons-Sharkey fiasco. Arrangements were very poor, and the big crowd was extremely uncomfortable in the hot arena. The fight was for a $2000 purse, 75 per cent. to the winner. The men fought at 115 pounds. They were well-trained, and entered the ring at 10 o'clock.

Very little time was wasted, as Barry was a fast fighter, and he and Anthony got away without return. In the second round Anthony led, but failed to land. Barry jabbed right and left into his face. It was evident that Barry was the cleverer man of the two, but his blows did not seem to hurt the Australian.

In the third round, after Barry had landed several right jabs without return, Anthony became aggressive, whereupon Barry swung viciously but missed and fell to the floor.

In the fourth round Barry was right, but was hotly countered. He then landed with both hands three times without return and the round closed with Anthony's blows and Barry was confident that he had sized up his man when the fifth opened, and he landed a stiff right on the Australian's nose, followed it up with right and left on Anthony's jaw.

Both came up smiling for the sixth. Anthony rushed, but he was cleverly stopped by Barry's jab. Barry's right poked his left into his opponent's stomach and received a right in the face as a return. Barry led several times, but his blows seemed to lack steam.

In the seventh round Barry cleverly stopped a lead and the round closed with Anthony's punches. Barry's right poked his left into his opponent's stomach and received a right in the face as a return. Barry led several times, but his blows seemed to lack steam.

In the eighth round Barry cleverly stopped a lead and the round closed with Anthony's punches. Barry's right poked his left into his opponent's stomach and received a right in the face as a return. Barry led several times, but his blows seemed to lack steam.

KLOSS DIDN'T KICK.

HANGED UNTIL DEAD WITHOUT MAKING A STRUGGLE.

The Murderer of William Deady is Executed at San Quentin and Takes it Smilingly.

MOST SUCCESSFUL FUNCTION.

HIS ONLY REQUEST WAS MADE TO THE NEWSPAPERS.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)

SAN QUENTIN PRISON, April 23.—Frank Cooney Kloss was hanged promptly at 10:30 o'clock this morning for the murder of William Deady over two years ago. Neither the brother nor the mother of Kloss has been at the prison since yesterday, and the execution was witnessed only by the prison officials, physicians and newspaper men. As Kloss had boasted he died game for the brutal and cowardly murder of his victim. He was cool to the last. Death was almost instantaneous.

At 10:20 o'clock Warden Hale went to the cell of the condemned man to read the death warrant. The prisoner was talking to Father Lagan, his spiritual advisor at the time, and with a cigarette in his mouth. He told Warden Hale not to read the warrant. The warden asked him if he wanted the reading. "Yes," he replied. The guards at once strapped his hands to his sides and put a leather belt about his ankles. Fathers Lagan and Lagan stood on each side of him. The guards grouped themselves about, and the march to the gallows was begun. The priests chanted the prayers for the dying.

At exactly 10:30 o'clock Kloss was placed upon the trap. Father Lagan stepped forward and requested the attention of the spectators. He said that Kloss had asked him to deny the assertion which appeared lately in some of the newspapers regarding the treatment of his mother by the murderer. Father Lagan asked the newspapers to do justice to a man who died with his dying breath the story of his untold conduct.

When the clergymen concluded, the rope was put upon Kloss's neck, and the black cap was drawn over his head. Through it all Kloss was in perfect master of himself. Just before the cap was pulled over his eyes he recognized Chief Jailer Sattler of the County Jail. He smiled at him as though he were passing his friend on the street. His eye then lighted upon another acquaintance to whom he bowed. Then the black cloth shut the world from his gaze forever.

When everything was adjusted, Warden Hale raised his hand; the three men hidden in the box cut the ropes; the trap fell, and the body of Frank Kloss shot into the air. There was not a quiver of pain or the slightest struggle. The rope away for a moment, and then the body hung like the pendulum of a clock that had stopped. Dr. Lawler, the prison surgeon, and his assistants, for the occasion, Dr. Wickman and Jones of San Rafael and Cook and Douglas of San Francisco felt the pulse and listened for the respiration. All action in the body ceased at the end of twelve minutes. A second after the trap opened Kloss was insensible and practically dead. The physicians, all of whom have attended the previous executions at the prison, are unanimous in saying that this was the most successful hanging of the series. There have been in all fourteen executions at San Quentin.

FIRE AT LANCASTER.

The Sanitarium of R. B. Little There Is Destroyed.

(BY THE TIMES' SPECIAL WIRE.)

LANCASTER, April 23.—(Special Dispatch.) The sanitarium of R. B. Little, the place where the fire broke out, was destroyed at 7 o'clock on the roof. This was supposed to be all extinguished, but a few minutes after leaving the whole roof suddenly burst into flames and was past all control. The loss was $5000; insurance $3500.

BRUN WAS DRUNK.

An Exciting Time at a Sailor Boarding-house in "Frisco.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23.—Three men had an encounter with a drunken bear yesterday, and received mementoes of the meeting which they will keep for some time. Michael Rooney, proprietor of the St. Louis Hotel on Pacific street, is the owner of two small black bears that a friend sent him from Alaska. Apparently life at the sailor boarding-house has demoralized them, for both have acquired an unquenchable thirst for port. The bear has few charms for them, while the harder liquors are left severely alone.

Yesterday the bruins' thirst was still unsatisfied when George McColeman and William Ritchie, longshoremen, went into Rooney's place and proceeded to have some fun with the bears. In some manner the chain by which one was fastened became unhooked. The brute made a dash at McColeman, and with one blow of its paw, knocked him down. Ritchie went to his chum's assistance, but a cuff on the ear made him retreat, and the bear again turned to McColeman, digging his claws into the man's face and breast, and biting him viciously. McColeman's screams brought the cook, Barney Brittain, to the rescue. But the bear, now thoroughly aroused, attacked him furiously, seriously lacerating his face and arms. It was only when Rooney appeared that the bear ceased hostilities, being effectually sobered with a club. McColeman and Brittain had their injuries dressed by a surgeon.

HILL MUST HANG.

The Supreme Court Seals a Wife-murderer's Doom.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23.—The Supreme Court has affirmed the decision of the lower court of Alameda county, which pronounced the death penalty against Benjamin L. Hill for the murder of his wife, Agnes, in Oakland, January 11, 1896.

Hill was a railroad man, and on account of scarcity of work, had been in Oregon for some time, leaving his wife and child in Oakland. On his return Hill met his wife on the street, and asked her to live with him, but she refused, and he alleges that she had been unfaithful to him. He claims that she admitted the charge of infidelity, thereupon he shot her, from the effects of which she died in a few minutes.

Upon his arrest, Hill acknowledged the act and asserted that he desired to have the law take its course. He afterward changed his mind and fought the charge of murder against him. The jury brought in a verdict of murder without provocation, and Hill was sentenced to be hanged.

He appealed upon the ground that the jury had been improperly charged, that testimony against him had been improperly admitted, but relied principally upon the fact that the court did not provide a blank form of a verdict of guilty of murder in the second degree for the jury. The court, meeting this contention, says that if the jurors conclude upon a verdict other than one furnished to them, they have the power to write a verdict in conformity with their opinion.

TIRED OF WALKING.

Mayor Phelan's Unemployed Take Possession of the Town of Lodi.

STOCKTON, April 23.—The two hundred and seventy men who were sent to this city by Mayor Phelan of San Francisco, en route for the East, have reached Lodi. They got tired of walking, and have refused to proceed further. Last night they tried to take possession of a freight train for Sacramento, but were frustrated by the railroad people, who had the train steam by without stopping.

This morning they were more successful, and climbed upon the freight, which was to have pulled out at 9:30 o'clock. Some got on top of the cars, and others hung onto the sides. The train men, acting under the instructions of the agent, refused to take the train out. The unemployed refused to get off the cars. The local authorities were invoked, but there were only one or two constables, and they could do nothing with the men.

The train is still here, and the men also firm in their determination. They say they will stay there all summer. They have been begging in the town and practically own the village.

THEY ARE SITTING.

LODI, April 23.—The army of unemployed marched into town this morning and captured a freight train for Sacramento. The trainmen held the train on a side track and refused to start. The followers of Leungwell have been sitting on cars since noon with nothing to eat. The say they will stay till the train hauls them to Sacramento, or they are arrested. They don't care which. Business men are now (6:30 p.m.) taking up a subscription and donating food for the hungry company. They are quiet and orderly and officers anticipate no trouble.

LATER.—The citizens fed the unemployed visitors at 7 o'clock with bread, eggs, crackers and corned meat. The men then prepared to sleep on top of the cars till the train moved, and had sentinels posted. The train men, however, pulled the train back to Stockton just after 9 o'clock, with all on board. This ends the excitement here. Town was excited on account of the arrival of an outbreak, while the men were here. Leffingwell, the commander of the company, said that the men did not care what became of them, and that they would stay until the train moved, or their arrest took place.

HAULED BACK TO STOCKTON.

STOCKTON, April 23.—Shortly after 9 o'clock the report reached town that the railroad company had changed from Stockton to a rapid rate. There were but few beside the officers there when it reached the yards shortly before 10 o'clock. The men were on the train and showed no disposition to move. Their leader, Leffingwell, was on a front car and passed the word along for all the men to stay on the cars. The crowd was quite jovial and said they would keep the cars warm till they were carried to Sacramento or arrested.

At a late hour they were sleeping in their blankets on the cars and along the sides of the track and attempted no trouble. It is expected that Sheriff Cunningham will take some decisive action at daylight, and whether the movement is accomplished quietly or not depends on the way the men obey orders.

ON CUNNINGHAM'S HANDS.

SACRAMENTO, April 23.—Today the Southern Pacific Company telegraphed to Sheriff Cunningham of San Joaquin county for protection for its trains against the Leffingwell army, who had captured and held one of its trains at Lodi. Cunningham replied that he was not aware of the men having violated any law. Thereupon the company ordered the train back from Lodi to Stockton and now Cunningham has the whole gang to look after again.

HUNTING FOR BURIED TREASURE.

Mysterious Thomas Pacheco Wants to Dig Up Oakland Streets.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)

OAKLAND, April 23.—Thomas Pacheco has come to Oakland to hunt for buried treasure. Pacheco refuses to tell the details of his plan for the sudden acquisition of riches, and keeps his companions in the romantic enterprise in the background, but he has gone far enough to convince those who have been watching him, of his seriousness. He has made inquiry at the office of Superintendent M. K. Miller as to how far he can go in digging up the streets and how close to the front line of property civic authority approached, and has engaged Attorney Garrity to watch his interest in a legal way.

Pacheco makes his home in Temescal, and came here two weeks ago. To a confidential friend he told his story. Down in the foothills of Southern Monterey he has come upon a remorse-stricken old Spaniard, anxious to clear a conscience by confessing the approach of death, who told the story of a crime of half a century ago. The Spaniard, then young, and active, had, with a couple of companions, committed a daring robbery. There was a quick pursuit, and to hide the crime the golden saw was buried among the roots of a tree that stood in the old grove that gave this city its name. Circumstances kept the freebooters from ever reaping the fruits of their crime and now the confession of a man who renounced the fruits of the world gives gold to the lucky one who finds it.

Old landmarks were gone, but as near as the mysterious Pacheco could ascertain, the cache was somewhere on Clay street between First and Seventh streets. In that neighborhood he has hovered for several days past, waiting to complete his observations and plans. No permit has yet been issued at the office of the Street Superintendent.

THE "WILL-SMASHER."

New Blood to Be Injected into the Fair Case.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23.—Another legal gentleman, will make his bow to the court from the Craven end of the table when the Fair trial is resumed Monday morning.

Ex-Judge George M. Curtis of New York, known at the bar of the Empire State as the "will-smasher," arrived from the East last night to participate in the big legal fight. He has come to stand side by side with D. M. Delmas as associate counsel for Mrs. Craven. No intimation has been made that Delmas was to be assisted in the trial of the big case by any imported talent from the East, and the unheralded arrival of ex-Judge Curtis is calculated to act as a bombshell in the Fair camp.

Got Wits and Clothes Back.

SAN JOSE, April 23.—Attorney Frank Hoberg of San Francisco, who created a sensation here by drooling in the street, was examined today on a charge of insanity. As he had recovered his mental faculties, the court refused to appoint a guardian for him.

EDHEM PASHA.

veva has been partly destroyed by the guns of the Greek warships and those of a battery which the Greeks erected, the town of Prevesa is not damaged and is still held by the Turks.

POWERS WILL INTERVENE.

BRUSSELS, April 23.—Le Noud today announced that at the present time have given adherence to the note of the Russian Minister for Foreign Affairs, Count Mouravieff, assuring Greeks and Turks of the friendly interference of the powers in the present struggle as soon as asked by either side.

ATTACKING IZZEDIN FORT.

LONDON, April 23.—The Times correspondent at Canea says that today the insurgents are attacking Fort Izzedin, which is occupied by the international troops, in addition to the Turkish garrison. Three warships have left Suda and anchored opposite the fort. The admirals have gone to reconnoiter in a torpedo-boat.

This morning the powers are admirals to ask whether the powers are in alliance with Turkey. The object of this inquiry is obvious.

BERLIN, April 23.—The Frankfurter Zeitung publishes a dispatch from Constantinople, dated midnight, Thursday, saying news of the Turkish defeat in Greece has just reached that city. The dispatch says that Edhem Pasha, the hero of Plevna, has been dispatched to the frontier.

ANOTHER SYMPATHETIC RESOLUTION.

WASHINGTON, April 23.—Representative Maguire, of Ohio, today introduced a resolution in the House declaring that the war between Turkey and Greece was war between Moslem and Christian races, and directing that the sympathy of the United States be extended to Greece, with the hope that her struggle may be successful. The resolution was referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs, but as that committee has not been appointed, no action can be taken at present.

BURNED, PLUNDERED AND DY-NAMITED.

LONDON, April 23.—The correspondent of the Daily News at Constantinople says: "It is reported that all telegraphic communication with Constantinople is now cut off except by way of Odessa and the Black Sea."

The Daily Telegraph's correspondent at Larissa says that on Tuesday the Greeks attempted to retake Gritzovali. A long fight ensued, but the Greeks failed, owing to the superior force of the Turks and their stronger position. The Greeks, however, occupy a good position in front of Ligaria, where the correspondent is convinced, they will be victorious. He adds: "I regret to say that the Turks have burned, after plundering, the villages of Ligaria, Karayou and Meralaria, destroying the churches with dynamite."

PLAYING FOR SMALL STAKES.

LONDON, April 23.—A dispatch to the Times from Miloussa Pass, dated today, says Edhem Pasha continues to pursue a cautious policy. His plan seems to be to capture in succession a number of small towns, and then to attack the Greeks, but to avoid a general engagement. The Turks are making a good military road through the pass. The cannonade continues from the west, but the Greeks are advancing on the left wing, but in the direction of Tyrnavo, matters are quiet, the Turks having taken advantage of the night to occupy the pass.

RECRUITS FROM AMERICA.

NEW YORK, April 23.—Five hundred and sixty-two Greek recruits will sail tomorrow on the French line steamship La Champagne for Havre. From there they will be transported to Macedonia and thence to the front line of conflict. The recruits come from different cities.

PATRIOTS FROM CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, April 23.—Two hundred Greeks said good-by to Chicago last evening and amid scenes of the wildest enthusiasm, started for the seat of war in their native country. Before another week has passed, it is possible Chicago will not have a score of Greeks within her limits. Already arrangements are under way for the departure of another party of 200 Grecian patriots who will leave soon.

GEN. MILES'S APPLICATION.

WASHINGTON, April 23.—Secretary Alger stated today that the United States had been respecting the sending of Gen. Miles, commanding general of the army, to the scene of the Greco-Turkish conflict. The question is under advisement.

GOT HIM AS QUESTION.

CHICAGO, April 23.—A special to the Times-Herald from Washington, D.C., says that Maj.-Gen. Nelson A. Miles, commander of the army, has been authorized by the President to go to Europe to witness the war between Greece and Turkey. He expects to sail for Genoa in about two weeks. He will be accompanied by the members of his staff, probably M. P. Maus of the First Infantry.

Gen. Miles himself suggested this trip to the President, and though the United States military attaches at Vienna had already been directed to go to the war, the President readily assented to have Gen. Miles go also. He will be accredited representative of the United States, and will probably receive all the military honors due his rank. He will visit both the Greek and Turkish armies in the field, and at the close of the war will probably make a trip through Europe, inspecting the military establishments of the various countries.

It is not known whether the general in command of the army during his absence. One of the officers at the War Department headquarters may be detailed to that duty, or it may fall to Maj.-Gen. Wesley Merritt now commanding the Department of the East at New York. Gen. Miles after confirming the report that he was to go to Europe said:

"I have not yet completed the details of my plans of travel. Unless something new now happens to prevent, I expect to leave New York for the East in about two weeks. My route is not yet definitely decided upon, but I shall probably direct to Genoa and then proceed as rapidly as possible to the scene of the conflict. I shall take with me one aide, probably Capt. Maus of the First Infantry."

"I shall make a personal visit to both armies, but shall spend a considerable time with each going from one to the other as circumstances and opportunity shall dictate. I shall also make observations of several of the European armies before my return. I cannot tell how long I shall be absent. My stay will depend largely upon the course of events in the Greco-Turkish controversy, and the effect it will have upon European politics and military operations. I suppose I shall be gone several months. I go as the accredited representative of the United States, in which capacity I am only the latest of a number of such envoys."

The representatives of the United States now at the scene of the present conflict are Capt. Joseph H. Dorot of the Fourth Cavalry, the military attaché of the legation at Vienna, and Capt. George P. Schriever of the Signal Corps, military attaché of the embassy at Rome.

It is generally believed in Washington that Gen. Miles is delaying too long his departure for the conflict.

he does not sail for two weeks he will not reach the front for a month, for it will take two weeks to make the journey from Washington to Athens. It is the general opinion in many quarters in Washington that the war will be ended inside of thirty days, although Gen. Miles is not of that opinion. He believes it will be a long and severe war, and believes that other countries will be involved.

LEFT A CONTINGENT.

LONDON, April 23.—The Athens correspondent of the Daily Mail says it is reported that the Greek army in Epirus has left a contingent to attack Pente-plavdia, while the main body has proceeded to Plakka, where fighting is in progress.

VASSOS WILL ATTACK.

LONDON, April 23.—A dispatch to the Daily News from Canea says that Col. Vassos has notified the admirals that he has been ordered to attack the Turks. The Times' correspondent at Canea says it is reported that Col. Vassos has been ordered to attack the Turkish warships.

EDHEM'S HEADQUARTERS.

LONDON, April 23.—A dispatch to the Times from Constantinople says that, while Osman Pasha will take supreme command of all the Turkish armies engaged against Greece, Edhem Pasha will remain in the present command of the eastern army with headquarters at Macedonia.

BULGARIA'S DEMANDS.

What the Diplomats and Catholic Priests Say of Them.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)

WASHINGTON, April 23.—In diplomatic circles, and especially at the University, the demands of Bulgaria for the appointment of bishops to the vacant sees is taken to mean that this semi-autonomous principality is seizing the present moment to still further increase the independence of the Sultan.

The Sultan still exercises supervision over all episcopal appointments. Bulgaria is largely orthodox Greek, but there are many Greek Catholics. Three of the vacancies come from the Pope's jurisdiction. The Holy See some time ago presented a list of names to the Porte from which to choose the bishops. This has not been attended to. The Bulgarians are, according to diplomatic opinions, using this neglect to stir open revolt.

WAR WITH BULGARIA.

The Sultan Will Provoke One by Refusing More Bishops.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)

NEW YORK, April 24.—A dispatch to the Journal from Constantinople says: "There is a rumor tonight that the Sultan will refuse the demands of Bulgaria for the five additional bishops, or bishops. Such a refusal will surely result in a war with Bulgaria."

"The Roumanian government is preparing for war by announcing the issue of bills to the amount of $5,670,000 for an extraordinary war credit."

OTHERS PATIENTLY WAITING.

PARIS, April 23.—The Politique Coloniale publishes telegrams from the Sports and the Journal des Debats, off the coast of Asia Minor, declaring that the inhabitants are patiently awaiting the arrival of the Greek fleet as a signal to shake off the Turkish yoke.

ORDERED TO KEEP QUIET.

LONDON, April 23.—A dispatch to the Standard from its Constantinople correspondent says the Russian government has sharply ordered Bulgaria to keep quiet, yet Bulgaria has given the Porte notice that she will mobilize her troops tomorrow (Saturday) unless the heretics (the warrants for five more Bulgarian bishops in Macedonia) and the appointments of Bulgarian commercial agents at Uskub and Monastir are granted.

MONTENEGRO'S PART.

Crown Prince Danilo Makes an Address to the Troops.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)

CETTINJE (Montenegro), April 23.—The Crown Prince Danilo, in an address to the Montenegrin troops, today said: "We sincerely hope this conflict (the war between Turkey and Greece) will cost as little human life as possible. Our interests thus far have not been affected, but should a force of circumstances, or which God forbid, our unhappy event in any way prejudice our interests, we will instantly prove ourselves brave and worthy sons of our beloved fatherland."

ABDUL'S NEW VALET.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 23.—It is stated that Izzet Bey will be replaced by Arif Bey as second secretary and chamberlain of the Sultan.

Identified by a Wound.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23.—J. L. Brown was held today by two men in this city early this morning. He was stabbed one of them in the abdomen with a knife. Charles White was later taken to the hospital and treated for a knife wound, and he and his companion, Dennis Foley, are under arrest charged with attempted robbery.

Sent to the Asylum.

EUREKA, April 23.—F. A. Hutton, who wandered away from home yesterday and subsequently returned hatless and coatless, after spending two nights in the woods, was today committed to Stockton Insane Hospital. Hutton's insanity is said to have been caused by a blow on the head while at work in San Francisco a few weeks ago.

Bowers and His Dredger.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23.—A. B. Bowers, who for the past generation has been defending in various courts his right to a patent in the dredging invention, and has finally established his claim, sold today his rights to his invention for the Pacific Coast to Samuel Theller for $300,000.

Masonic.

LOS ANGELES LODGE, No. 42, F. and A.M., conferred the Entered Apprentice degree Monday evening. Pentapla Lodge, No. 202, conferred the degree of Master Mason Tuesday night, and will confer the Fellow Craft degree next Tuesday night.

A large congregation was present at St. Paul's Church last Sunday, on the occasion of Easter services under the auspices of Los Angeles Commandery, Knights Templars. The services, conducted by Sir Arthur Brockman, the Preceptor, assisted by the choir, were very impressive. The sermon of the occasion was delivered by Rev. John Gray from the theme: "The Sword of the Spirit." The interior of the edifice was elaborately decorated for the occasion.

The Grand Council Royal and Select Masters convened in their thirtieth annual assembly at San Francisco on Monday. In the afternoon, officers of two Los Angeles lodges were honored with offices, August Wackerbarth being elected Grand Principal Director of Work, and W. B. Scarborough as Grand Steward. Other officers followed, including Grand Master, Henry Ashcroft, San Francisco; Deputy Grand Master, Robert Ash, San Francisco; Grand Treasurer, H. Ray, San Francisco; Grand Captain of the Guard, A. J. Gardner, Sacramento; Grand Conductor, J. H. Neff, Auburn; Grand Lecturer, J. H. Neff, Auburn; Grand Secretary, J. H. Neff, Auburn; Grand Sentinel, James Oglesby, San Francisco.

The ranks of the higher Masonic lodges in this city are somewhat depleted this week in consequence of the attendance at the annual convention of the Grand Chapter, Commandery and Council.

At the Grand Chapter Royal Arch Masons at San Francisco this week, Florin L. Jones of Pasadena was elected Grand Scribe and E. T. Blackmer of San Diego as Grand Deputy High Priest.

B. F. Nance was the delegate from the Pomona Chapter, R.A.M. and Commander of the Los Angeles Chapter, R.A.M. at San Francisco this week.

The Riverside Commandery, K.T., held Easter services at the Baptist Church in Los Angeles last Sunday, in which they were joined by the San Bernardino and Redlands commanderies.

Valley de France Lodge conferred the Entered Apprentice degree last night. A large number of visitors were present.

The bulletin at the Temple shows that the next week will be the conferring of the second degree by Pentapla Lodge. With eleven different bodies meeting at the Temple such a variety of events there will probably never again occur.

At the session of the Grand Chapter, Royal Arch Masons, this week, over four hundred delegates were present, the largest number in the history of the jurisdiction. Officers' reports showed a membership of 5343 in the State, a gain of 165 during the past year.

Southgate Lodge, No. 320, F. and A.M., conferred the Fellow Craft degree Tuesday night to the San Diego Chapter. Invitations to this week to the celebration of its third anniversary, which occurs on May 12.

W. E. Bush, a prominent member of the craft from Chicago, is spending the week in the city.

The thirty-ninth annual convocation of the Grand Commandery, Knights Templar, convened in San Francisco Thursday. The official reports show a membership in the State of 3068, a percentage gain of 1.5 per cent. The election of officers occurred in the afternoon, a list which was published yesterday, and the delegates were the guests of Golden Gate Lodge last evening. The installation of officers will occur this evening.

Order of the Eastern Star. District Deputy Miss Lillie Kimball of this city paid an official visit to the Santa Monica Chapter and was given a reception Tuesday evening.

Acacia Chapter, No. 21, had a splendid occasion at its monthly social last Saturday night. A good program was rendered and the affair ended with a banquet. Numerous visitors were present.

Odd Fellows. The lodges of San José, Los Gatos, Campbell and Santa Clara will observe the anniversary of the order with a basket picnic and ball at Alum Rock Park. The addresses on the occasion will be delivered by District Attorney Warrington of San José.

Enterprise Encampment is preparing for the Grand Encampment, a rousing reception on the occasion of his official visit here next Friday night. Degree work will be exemplified.

The Grand Chapter of the University of the founding of the order will be held at Asbury Methodist Episcopal Church, East Los Angeles, tomorrow at 11 a.m., which will be attended by East Side Lodge, No. 325, and Eureka Rebekah Lodge, No. 123, in a body. The sermon, appropriate to the occasion, will be delivered by Rev. A. Chasler.

Good Will Lodge, No. 323, conferred the first degree last Friday night, and will be followed by the second degree Tuesday night.

A literary and musical entertainment and dance will be given by Golden Gate Lodge, No. 123, at the home of the order, their families by Monday night.

Good Will Lodge will not accept the invitation of East Side Lodge until the latter has demonstrated by defeating Hofer, America and Semi-Tropic lodges that it is in the same class as the other lodges.

Magnolia Encampment, No. 88, will confer the Royal Purple degree at a special meeting next Thursday night.

The Rebekahs. The Easter entertainment given by Una Lodge, No. 172, last Saturday night was a successful and pleasant affair. The hall was decorated with floral emblems of the order and calligraphic scrolls. The program included selection by Gardner's Orchestra, recitations by Miss Ella Lane and Elmer Booth, vocal solo by Mrs. Young, and piano accompaniment by Prof. Gardner and Mrs. Heller, whistling solo by Hazel Bryson, cornet solo by G. A. Hancock and character song by Miss Ethel Levy.

Knights of Pythias. GAUNTLET LODGE, No. 129, conferred the Page and Esquire ranks Monday night and will confer the rank of Knight next Monday evening. Elmer Booth, who has been elected Master-at-Arms of Marathon Lodge, No. 182, vice H. B. Miller resigned.

Grand Chancellor C. P. McGlashan is meeting with enthusiastic receptions wherever he is paying his official visits in this vicinity. A banquet was given in his honor at Riverside on Monday night.

The five-act drama "The Deacon" was presented by home talent for the benefit of San Pedro Temple, Elmer Booth, who has been elected Master-at-Arms of Marathon Lodge, No. 182, vice H. B. Miller resigned.

The reception to Grand Chancellor McGlashan upon his visit to the city was a most successful one. The order throughout the State is averaging about 250 new members per month.

Court Centinella, No. 3355, at Inglewood gave a musical and literary entertainment on the evening of the 15th, which was attended by about 200.

Court Centinella, No. 451, at Riverside, is preparing to tender a reception to the High Chief Ranger next month, and have invited the other courts of the city to participate with them on that occasion.

High Chief Ranger McGlashan will pay his first official visit to Court Centinella, No. 451, next Wednesday evening.

McGlashan upon his visit to the lodges of the city next Friday evening will prove an interesting event. In the Pythian history of the city, the Grand Chancellor will be escorted from the city to the Castle Hall by Los Angeles Commandery, No. 25, Uniform Rank, headed by the Catalina Band, where he will be received with grand honors after a short session of Los Angeles Lodge, No. 208. An address of welcome will be delivered by A. L. Selig, C.C. of Los Angeles Lodge, and addresses by W. H. Esdor, C.C. Marathon Lodge, No. 182, D. J. Cooper, P.C. Centinella Lodge, No. 129, and D. K. Trask, P.C. Samson Lodge, No. 148, after which the Grand Chancellor will be introduced by Capt. G. S. Salinger from his city. He will deliver an address. All visiting Knights are invited to be present.

The Grand Chancellor changed his tour somewhat this week and visited at Berkeley. Next Tuesday he will visit Pasadena Lodge, Wednesday at Santa Ana, Thursday at Santa Monica. After his visit to this city he will return north.

Isaac Springer, President of the Southern California K. of P. Picnic Association, is expected to arrive in Pasadena to witness the fiesta floral parade.

Knights of the Maccabees. A Ponderous new safe for the use of Tent No. 2, now occupies the office of E. M. Cates, Record Keeper in the Phillips Block.

Tent No. 2 initiated one candidate, received nine applications and elected ten to membership Wednesday night. A large number of visitors were present.

The Relief Board is called for three sick brothers from a distance this week. The recent entertainment by the board at the Orpheum netted $70.

A number of prominent members of the order are expected to arrive in the city this week. A number of prominent members of the order are expected to arrive in the city this week.

An example of the uncertainty of life and the danger of delays is presented by the death of a prominent member of the order, who was elected to membership in Tent No. 2, and had passed a good medical examination, but had not been able to attend to his duties for some time, when death caught him unawares.

Long Beach Tent, No. 11, held a public meeting Tuesday evening, at which musical and literary program and dance. This tent is working under a dispensation, and received five applications to membership.

Modin Tent, No. 59, of San Francisco, initiated a class of twenty-six candidates at their meeting last week.

The J. C. Schwartz lodge of Pomona Tent, No. 14, is a visitor in the city this week.

A number of prominent members of the order are expected to arrive in the city this week. A number of prominent members of the order are expected to arrive in the city this week.

Ladies of the Maccabees. LOS ANGELES HIVE, No. 1, initiated four candidates Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Peters, Lady Commander of Santa Ana Hive, No. 7, is spending the week in the city.

The following officers were elected by Star Hive, No. 16, this week: Mrs. Hyatt, P.L.C.; Mrs. Gorham, L.C.; Mrs. Berkend, Scribe; Mrs. Wilson, R.K.; Mrs. Hornell, P.K.; Mrs. Denrick, Chaplain; Mrs. Maloney, Sergt.; Mrs. Magee, M. at A.; Mrs. Paulk, Sentinel; Mrs. Strang, Picket.

Native Sons of the Golden West. IN addition to the regular delegates to the Grand Parlor, a large number of the members of the city parlor will also go to Redwood City, where the session will be held. About thirty will depart thither from this city tomorrow.

The Grand Parlor convenes next Monday at Redwood City. Numerous delegates will be present. The Grand Parlor convenes next Monday at Redwood City. Numerous delegates will be present.

Grand Treasurer Frank Sabich has been confined to his residence in this city with severe illness the past two weeks, and will not be able to attend the session of the Grand Parlor.

Ancient Order United Workmen. LOS ANGELES LODGE, No. 55, officiated at the funeral of Frederick Bry of Occidental Lodge, No. 6, of Oakland last Sunday.

The April number of the California Workman contains a full page picture of the excellent degree team of San José Lodge.

Some of the jurisdictions are quarreling over the revised plan of assessments. California is receiving hundreds of new applications every month. The Grand Parlor is gaining new members and instituting new lodges.

Grand Foreman Mackey and O. H. Mason visited San Fernando Lodge last night, and exemplified the work upon four candidates.

St. Elmo Lodge, No. 238, conferred the Junior degree Monday night and University Lodge, the Workman degree Thursday night.

El Monte Lodge, No. 188, will hold a basket picnic and May-day party next Saturday.

Magnolia Lodge, No. 34, Degree of Honor, will give a social in their hall next Thursday evening.

Southern California Lodge, No. 191, conferred the Workman degree Thursday night and will confer the same degree next Thursday night.

Independent Order of Foresters. COURT OCCIDENT, No. 467, is increasing the interest in their meetings by rendering a musical program each evening of their meetings, under "Good and Welfare."

Court Occident, No. 467, has postponed the dedication of its new hall, corner Central avenue and Adams street, until Thursday evening, May 6. A number of new members are preparing for the occasion. High Chief Ranger G. A. McElfresh will be present and deliver an address.

The Los Angeles Encampment, No. 17, Royal Foresters, was the only fraternal organization that appeared in the fiesta parade, and the members did themselves much credit by appearing in number of eighty, mounted on fine horses and wearing their new and rich costumes for the first time. In the absence of G. A. McElfresh, National Secretary, Charles Freeman was in command. They won the plaudits of the multitude throughout the line of march.

After a tour of official visits to the courts in the northern part of the State, High Chief Ranger G. A. McElfresh returned to his home in this city Tuesday. During his trip, twenty-five days he traveled 3000 miles, addressed thirty-one public meetings, and secured 135 new members. He surrounded their families with protection to the extent of $181,000. He will depart upon another tour about the middle of May.

The order throughout the State is averaging about 250 new members per month.

Court Centinella, No. 3355, at Inglewood gave a musical and literary entertainment on the evening of the 15th, which was attended by about 200.

Court Centinella, No. 451, at Riverside, is preparing to tender a reception to the High Chief Ranger next month, and have invited the other courts of the city to participate with them on that occasion.

High Chief Ranger McGlashan will pay his first official visit to Court Centinella, No. 451, next Wednesday evening.

THE STORY OF LA FIESTA.

TOMORROW THE TIMES will issue its special Fiesta Number; and it will be one of the most notable and striking newspaper editions ever produced. It will contain ten or twelve pages of graphically-written matter descriptive of La Fiesta in all its varied and beautiful features, illustrated by between 100 and 200 pictures, which will recall in a vivid manner the more conspicuous scenes of the great annual festival which has become one of the fixed institutions of Los Angeles.

The paper will be in five regular parts, and will consist, in all, of forty-four pages, inclosed in a superb illuminated cover. One of the sheets, printed on fine paper, will contain excellent half-tone portraits of the Queen and her court, the Floral Queen and her retinue, the officers of La Fiesta, and many special features of the carnival.

The complete story of this unique and beautiful entertainment will be told truly, graphically, and in an attractive style. The street parades, the athletic games, the floral parade, the night carnival, the revels of all-fools' night, etc., will be fully exploited. In short, the Fiesta Number of THE TIMES will be a thing of beauty and of utility as well.

Many citizens will wish to preserve it as a memento of this gala occasion, and many others will wish to send it to friends in the East. The price of single copies will be 10 cents, and the postage will be 4 cents additional to any part of the United States. The Fiesta Number will be delivered to subscribers complete tomorrow (Sunday) morning.

The printing of the paper will begin at 2 o'clock this afternoon, and several tons of good white paper will be used in the first edition.

"ROW"

This afternoon the press-room of THE TIMES will be open from 2 to 5 o'clock to the entire of the visiting Coahuila and other Indians under big Chief Patton, and incidentally to the pale-face public. The "Old Guard" press may be seen in operation, printing Part Five of the Fiesta Number. This is a fiesta event not down on the regular programme—an omission which the able management is hereby called upon to explain by the exasperated public. The pipe of peace will be smoked while Chief Patton reads the jokes in the paper to the aborigines.

And now comes Sir Julian Pauncefote, Envoy Plenipotentiary and Ambassador of the Queen of England to these United States of ours, and says he will not attend the unveiling of Gen. Grant's tomb unless he is allowed to take precedence of Mrs. Grant and her children in the procession. Let him stay at home, then. There is not a man in America, native born or foreign, whose right of precedence exceeds that of the good woman who clung to Ulysses S. Grant through all his early vicissitudes, because she knew the sterling stuff that was in him. It would be a pleasing sight to see Mrs. Grant and her children first at the tomb, with the President and Vice-President behind her. It might serve to remind some people that even rank must be at times subservient to the holy grief of a wife, in comparison with which the tears of a whole nation were but selfish, after all.

The San Francisco Chamber of Commerce has sent a communication to Senator Perkins, urging him in the strongest possible terms to oppose the abrogation of the Hawaiian reciprocity treaty. The petitions pro and con, relative to this treaty, which are being forwarded to our Senators and Representatives, are calculated to cause them more or less weariness. But they may be depended upon to carry out the wishes of the people, when they have ascertained what the people want.

The idea of sending two or three companies of soldiers to the Alaska gold fields, to look out for American interests in that quarter, originated with Senator Perkins of California, but it is nevertheless a good one. British officials have been annoying American gold-seekers in that country for the past two years; and it is about time that Uncle Sam declared himself and let Mr. John Bull know that there is a limitation to human endurance.

tary Alger must recognize and abide by it when he has fully investigated the subject in all its bearings. His failure to act, thus far, is plainly attributable to his unfamiliarity with the subject. Full investigation can bring him to but one conclusion, and that is that the preliminary steps to the construction of the San Pedro Harbor should be taken without needless delay. Southern California has a right to anticipate such action on the part of the War Department in the near future.

ITALIAN SLAVES IN THE UNITED STATES.

THE TIMES has frequently urged the importance of restricting the stream of foreign immigration which now pours into this country. It is not only that the labor market of the United States is at present congested, so that thousands upon thousands of good American citizens are unable to support themselves and their families. If this were all, it would be bad enough. But this is not all. A considerable proportion of the new immigrants who arrive on our shores in such large numbers are ignorant, vicious and degraded. They do not possess in any degree the properties which go to make a good citizen of a free country. Crowding into the large cities, as they usually do, the difficult problem of municipal government is largely increased by this swelling of the purchasable vote. Thus, these undesirable immigrants not only take the bread out of the mouths of Americans who need it, but also undermine the foundations of free government.

Another evil incidental to the unrestricted immigration of ignorant and poverty-stricken Europeans is brought out in a striking manner by the Department of Labor in an official bulletin, wherein its experts, after an exhaustive investigation, assert that tens of thousands of people in the United States are even now held in abject servitude under the infamous padrone system. Indeed, a majority of Italian residents in America today are said to be thus oppressed, notwithstanding the general belief that the system referred to was wiped out long ago. While the wholesale buying of children for importation into this country, where they were tortured and corrupted, has been stopped, it is said that a majority of the Italians in the eastern part of the United States are still entirely at the mercy of these bosses, or padrones, who rob and abuse them in every possible manner.

The padrone system was first developed in the United States soon after the close of the war, when there was a great demand for labor, and under the encouragement of special legislation Italians were collected and imported on prepaid tickets. Men, women and children were induced to cross the Atlantic under contract by means of glittering promises. The padrone boarded these people, received their wages and gave them a mere pittance in return for hard work, $40 for a year's service being considered a fair rate. The women were frequently placed in houses of prostitution, and the children were sent on the streets to sell and beg for the benefit of the padrone.

The contract-labor law destroyed the business of buying up laborers in Italy for shipment to the United States, but the padrone system still flourishes here in a different shape. A majority of these immigrants are simple people who understand no English, and are therefore easy prey on their arrival to the padrone and his agents. During the first four months of 1896 over twenty-seven thousand Italian immigrants arrived at New York, which is the padrone center of the country. The starving Italian brings with him the address of some so-called "banker," who goes on his bond to insure his admission, and agrees to provide him with food and work, which labor devolves upon the padrone, who supplies contractors with cheap labor. Should the new arrival undertake to seek employment on his own account, he would be as likely as not to find his career cut short by the implanting of a stiletto in his back. The padrone charges a big commission and overcharges for transportation, board, clothing and other necessities, the rates charged for such things being an out-and-out swindle. Bread worth 4 cents a loaf is sold for 10 cents; macaroni worth 3 cents a pound fetches 10 cents, lard worth 6 cents a pound brings 20 cents, vegetables worth one-third of a cent a pound are sold for 10 cents, meat worth 5 cents a pound brings 15 cents, and codfish, olive oil and tobacco are disposed of at an advance of 100 per cent. over market rates. For a 5-cent postage stamp 10 cents is demanded, while charges are made for insurance which is never taken out, and in some camps regular taxes are levied under the head of "contributions to the Holy Virgin."

Sometimes men are paid in scrip, which is accepted by tradesmen only at a big discount. The laborers submit, because they must either work for these bosses or starve. The man knows that a boss would be glad to discharge him, for then he would make a new commission on the next man.

In addition to this outrageous swindling, the men are frequently treated with great cruelty, being cuffed and kicked around as if they were animals. Finally, it is not an unusual thing for a padrone to abscond with the men's wages at the end of several months' hard work. There are said to be about two thousand Italian bosses of all grades in New York and the adjoining cities, who make a business of furnishing unskilled labor to metropolitan contractors.

To add to the woes of these unfortunate Italians, they are frequently swindled out of their earnings by so-called "banks," of which there are about one hundred and fifty in New York City alone, none of which, so far as known, are organized under the banking laws of the State. Whenever an Italian cannot find anything else to do, he starts a bank, no capital being required. They are generally run in connection with lodging-houses, restaurants, grocery stores, macaroni factories, beer saloons and cigar shops. The Italian "banker," besides taking care, in his own fashion, of the savings of his customers, and remitting their money to Italy, writes and receives their letters, becomes their legal adviser, and sometimes acts as a marriage broker. The laborer does not get a regular receipt for his money, or a bank book, but merely a slip of paper, on which the sum deposited is written. As the laborer is seldom able to read, it is obvious that mistakes may frequently happen in regard to the amount deposited, and they are never in favor of the depositor. If money sent to Italy fails to reach its destination, the banker blames the postoffice or says that the ship foundered. The Italian money-sharper pockets an exchange rate of about 14 per cent., while he sends the money by postoffice order to Europe. He pays no interest, and frequently starts in business simply for the purpose of waiting until he gets a large sum of money on hand, and then running away with it. During eight months, according to a correspondent in the Providence Journal, no less than fourteen Italian "bankers" have run away from New York, two of which took with them over $50,000 in working-men's wages, and no effort was made to find them. Thus, the so-called banker works into the hands of the padrone, and the padrone reciprocates by turning the Italian workman over to him, when the padrone has squeezed everything out of the ignorant laborer that he can get, the result being that these Italian laboring men are, to all intents and purposes, as completely enslaved as are the peons of Mexico.

Certainly, it is high time that some restriction should be placed upon the further immigration of such a class of people as these Italians, to whom might be added most of the Hungarians, together with many other ignorant and often degraded people from Southern and Central Europe, who are a danger to this country, financially, socially and politically.

A paragraph which was published in THE TIMES, several days ago, relative to Gen. T. C. H. Smith, until recently a resident of the Ojai Valley, who died on the 8th inst., contained some errors and omissions, which are herewith in part supplied. Gen. Smith was engaged in the telegraph business in the latter forties and early fifties, being president for two years of the company which built the line from the great lakes to the Gulf of Mexico. During the war he was, first, lieutenant colonel, and afterward colonel of the First Ohio Cavalry. Later on, and until the close of the war, he was chief of Gen. Pope's staff; but he never had anything to do with keeping up the war telegraph lines, as stated. These are but a few incidents in the varied and distinguished career of this veteran officer, who, at a ripe age, has gone before.

The commercial reports show a steady, though slow, improvement in trade conditions from week to week. After the tariff question has been settled, if it is settled right, the improvement will be rapid and substantial.

A FAMOUS BAT CATCHER.

Makes a Living in Paris by Hunting Queer Animals.

One of the queerest characters in Paris is Matterhorn, the famous toad hunter and bat catcher. His favorite hunting ground is the great Arcueil aqueduct, forty kilometres long, which brings the waters of the Dhuys to thirty Parisians. This is a regular place of refuge for bats, which hang by thousands to the roof of the long tunnel, digging their sharp claws into its rough jutting and looking for all the world like the shadows of the great cave. There they are, in colonies of forty or fifty, cold and still, waiting for Matterhorn to come along with his lantern and iron box and catch them between his ready thumb and forefinger. The bats make slight resistance, being drowsy with sleep, and in a night Matterhorn often captures a hundred of them or more, and he sells the bats to people who eat them, some from necessity, some from choice, for those who have tried to eat them say that the flesh of the bat is delicious. It is red and somewhat fat, and fried and served with chopped parsley, it is said to equal the finest venison in flavor.

"Why should not one eat bats?" exclaimed Matterhorn, in reply to my question. "The little animals are scrupulously clean and feed on nothing but insects, which is more than can be said of many animals that are eaten with a relish. I tell you the bat is a much more delicious creature than that of John Skelton, a brick maker, Skelton started for Silver City five days ago and now is known to have been tipped from his wagon into the river, together with two companions, May Murrill and an unknown man. This gives the river seven victims within a few weeks."

"But you don't live entirely by catching bats, do you?" "No, no; I catch all kinds of animals that other people don't want. You are surprised to know how many kinds of animals there are to catch right here in Paris. Why, the city is full of rabbits for instance, and you can't get the number of people who realize that is limited."

"Then I suppose you sell your bats mostly to those who are very poor?" "Yes; mostly; although there are gourmets who have got beyond popular prejudice and pay me a good price per dozen."

"But you don't live entirely by catching bats, do you?" "No, no; I catch all kinds of animals that other people don't want. You are surprised to know how many kinds of animals there are to catch right here in Paris. The New York Sun recently published a retraction of charges made by it against Frank B. Noyes of the Washington Star, in connection with the contest between the Associated Press, championed by Noyes, and the defunct United Press, formerly presided over by Dana. Mr. Dana showed his good sense in making an apology, and Mr. Noyes displayed his in being content with it and keeping out of court.

Ex-Senator Peffer of Kansas, he of the breeze-inviting whiskers, announces that he proposes to edit his Populist paper on conservative lines hereafter, as he has discovered that "this world is too big for one man to recreate it." This is only equalled by the profound wisdom of the Teutonic philosopher who declared: "Der more I leef, der longer I find it py Shoopider out!"

And so Marshall Field, importer of dry goods and other vegetables, don't like the Dingley Tariff Bill. Of course he prefers the Wilson Bill, for the simple reason that he is not a manufacturer and does not employ any skilled labor. It's very easy to see whose bull has gored Marshall Field's ox.

That souvenir edition of the Monrovia Messenger is a credit to the town wherein it is published. It gives views of a great many familiar scenes, all of which are depicted with remarkable fidelity to nature, and the letter-press is likewise good. "The old folks at home" will learn something good of California while perusing it.

Persons who claim to have seen the alleged air-ship hovering over Nebraska assert that it has "a red nose." The probability is, rather, that those who imagine they have seen an air-ship mistook the color of their own noses for that of the celestial visitant.

The commercial reports show a steady, though slow, improvement in trade conditions from week to week. After the tariff question has been settled, if it is settled right, the improvement will be rapid and substantial.

DEBOE NOMINATED SENATOR.

Bradley People Brought the Nomination About by Playing a Waiting Game—His Election Now Assured.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.) FRANKFORD, April 23.—The breach in the Republican ranks was healed tonight when the Republican Senatorial caucus, after a long and stormy session, nominated Dr. W. J. Deboe as the Republican choice for Senator. There is every reason tonight to believe that he will be elected by the State Legislature tomorrow. The nomination of Deboe was brought about by Gov. Bradley and the five Republicans who bolted after Dr. Hunter had been declared the Republican caucus nominee. The Bradley faction played a waiting game. When the Hunter contingent had finally been brought together in the support of Deboe, the bolters swung into line, casting their solid vote for him, thereby the nomination, and a moment later Deboe was unanimously declared the nominee of the caucus.

Amid the wild midnight scene that followed the nominee was brought before the caucus, and made a strong speech of thanks. Holt, who, after the withdrawal of Hunter, became Deboe's leading opponent, also made a felicitous speech.

W. J. Deboe, the nominee, is about 50 years old, a native of Crittenden county, where he was a practicing country physician for a number of years. His first political prominence was his election to the State Senate four years ago. He is still a member of the State Senate.

All interest during the day had centered in tonight's caucus, the balloting in today's joint session being purely a formality. Deboe got 31 votes of a quorum. On the first ballot tonight Deboe had 31 ballots and Holt, 18, Evans, 3, Lewis, 6; Bennett, 4, and 9 scattered. It was necessary for Deboe to get 31 votes who had expected the five former "bolters" to accept the chance to dictate a nomination, were disappointed, as Deboe got 31 votes they did not come to him and name him. On the next ballot, Baird voted for Deboe, and gave him 32 votes. The next day the caucus was held, and the matter proceeded without any material change until the twenty-fifth ballot, when it was agreed that the hindmost names on each side should be dropped. This action, which was taken on the motion of the bolters, soon brought matters to an issue, and the bolters, who had been under the impression that they would be elected, swung into line for Deboe and effected his nomination.

Baird, the gold Democrat, participated in the action, and will undoubtedly vote for the nominee tomorrow.

RAGING SALT RIVER.

Seven People Drowned in It Within a Few Weeks.

PHOENIX (Ariz.), April 23.—It is now established that the body found in Salt River Wednesday the body of John Skelton, a brick maker, Skelton started for Silver City five days ago and now is known to have been tipped from his wagon into the river, together with two companions, May Murrill and an unknown man. This gives the river seven victims within a few weeks.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT.

DENVER, April 23.—A special to the Republican from Phoenix, Ariz., says: Three more victims have been taken by Salt River, making seven within a month. The stream is swollen by melting snows, and the fords are occasionally attempted by reckless persons and usually with disaster.

John Skelton, a brickmaker, left the city accompanied by a woman named Mac Murray, and another man named Skelton has killed. They were in a light spring wagon, which was taken up by the current and fell into the stream. All three were thrown from their seats and disappeared beneath the muddy water. The bodies did not rise.

NAVAL RESERVE LIST.

Plans Perfected for Creating a Stay-at-home Fleet.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.) WASHINGTON, April 23.—The Navy Department has perfected its plan for the creation of a reserve list of war vessels. The first vessel to be made the nucleus of the reserve fleet is the Columbia. She will not be taken out of commission, but will be laid up in reserve at League Island as soon as she returns from the New York celebration next week. Of her crew of 400 men, only seventy-seven will be retained on the ship. They will be commanded by four commissioned and three warrant officers. The small crew retained on the ship will be sufficient to train the men assigned to her, being thoroughly familiar with all her peculiarities. The three hundred odd men saved from the Columbia's crew by the reduction will be transferred to the battleship Iowa.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.) CLINTON (Iowa), April 23.—Christian Eckert, who was convicted and condemned to death for the brutal murder of Mrs. Mina Kiel, near Bellevue, July 4, 1894, and granted a new trial on account of the technical error of a juror, got a new lease of life tonight.

The jury, after being out twenty-four hours and taking 150 ballots, returned a verdict of murder in the first degree, with a penalty of life imprisonment. The verdict will disappoint the public at large.

UITLANDERS' WRONGS.

THE TRANSVAAL PREMIER WISHES THEM REDRESSED.

If War Breaks Out It Will Be the Fault of the Republic—Remarks Scored by a Member of the Parliament.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.) CAPE TOWN, April 23.—[By Atlantic Cable.] In the Cape Parliament the debate on the so-called peace motion, adjourned on April 16, was resumed. The motion in question urged the adoption of a policy of moderation and conciliation in the settlement of differences in the interpretation of treaties and conventions. An amendment was introduced to the effect that the ends desired would be best obtained by the redress of the genuine grievances of the Uitlanders.

Sir J. Golden, the Premier, said today that the war for the Transvaal Republic to subdue the existing excitement was to redress the grievances of the Uitlanders. He did not believe that there would be war, because he could not see how it was going to arise, though he admitted that the building of forts and the importing of ammunition and guns was no way to peace.

Continuing, the Premier asserted that the last time the imperial government desired war, and he added if war occurred, it would be the fault of the Transvaal. Great Britain was determined to maintain the status quo in the Transvaal, and her position as the paramount power in Africa. Transvaal autonomy, he asserted, was not worth a year's purchase without the protection of Great Britain.

Mr. Sawyer condemned the attitude of the Premier and suggested arbitration, adding that if Great Britain used force it would mean civil war.

W. P. Schreiner, the former Attorney-General of Cape Colony, said he did not agree with the martial utterance of the Premier. He said that the Transvaal was a republic, and he expressed the hope that the lightning would not strike.

ALL ALONG THE LINE.

The American Club presented a gallant appearance yesterday as Queen Francesca's guard of honor. The boys have lost none of their old-time vim and precision, and they were accorded a more hospitable welcome than was given them upon some of their visits during the campaign.

A deaf mute walked the Southern Pacific track between Cerritos and San Pedro yesterday. The Coroner has been summoned to hold an inquest over his remains. The persistence with which deaf people select a railroad track for a promenade is only equalled by the proverbial penchant of the moth to fly into a lighted candle. The inevitable result is too plain to need elucidation.

The spirit of enterprise is abroad in the land, and Redlands, the "infant wonder city," is not behind her sister towns in this respect. Among the new improvements begun there is a cannery which will be one of the largest and best equipped in Southern California. The Redlands brand is already a synonym of excellence, and the products of the new cannery will hardly be an exception.

That the growing of citrus fruits is not a defunct industry in Southern California is evidenced by the demand for nursery stock in San Bernardino county. Large areas will be planted to oranges and grape fruit this year, provided Congress will do the proper thing with respect to the tariff. A duty of a cent a pound on citrus fruits will stimulate a great home industry that needs protection against pauper foreign labor just as much as the manufacturing industries of the East.

It appears as if Los Angeles was fated to wrestle with a series of water questions. Thus, we have had the irrigation water question; the deep-water harbor question; the muenst-drink anything-but-water-on-Sunday question, and the city water question is now upon us. Fortunately, since the levees have been built along the banks of the river, there is no probability that we shall again be troubled with the overflow-water question, which used to disturb the slumbers of residents in the lower part of town during the rainy season.

The Southern California Veterans' Association has accepted the bid of San Diego to donate $900 toward the expenses of the next annual encampment, provided it be held in that city. Although a more central location might have been selected, it is doubtful if the veterans could pitch their tents at a place where they will receive better treatment, or where the facilities for a week's outing are better than in the City of Bay and Climate. San Diego is to be congratulated on securing the encampment; likewise are the veterans for deciding to go there.

Patrons of the turf will regret to learn that Klamath, whose fame is next to Silkwood's among Southern California horses, will never race again. At least that will be the result provided the wishes of the dead owner of the animal are complied with. According to the terms of the will of the late Thomas W. Raymond, Klamath is to be probated at Santa Ana, Klamath is to bequeathed to his trainer on condition that he is not entered in any more races. Mr. Raymond never allowed any one but himself to drive the horse in a race, and he evidently made up his mind that no one should drive the animal after he was gone.

INDIAN LANDS.

Dawes Commission Has Arranged with Choctaws and Chickasaws.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.] ATOKA (I. T.) April 23.—The Dawes commission this morning reached an agreement with the Choctaw and Chickasaw Indians for a division of their lands. This agreement makes provision for townships, persons owning substantial improvements to be permitted to purchase lots on which buildings are already erected, at two-thirds of the actual value. All coal and mineral interests are reserved for the respective nations; individual royalties to cease on the ratification of the agreement by Congress. The allotment of the land is to take place immediately upon its approval.

A CLOSE CALL.

A PISTOL BULLET BARELY MISSES A WOMAN'S HEAD.

A Man Who Gave His Name as Thomas Sanchez Fires Through a Window at an Inmate of a Crib in Bauer Alley.

About midnight last night a Mexican who gave his name as Thomas Sanchez, and said he was a rancher from Santa Fe Springs, was arrested by Police Officer Sawyer and placed in the City Jail on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

Sanchez was taking in the sights in Whitechapel last night, and after having several wordy encounters with various inmates of the cribs, stopped in front of a crib on Bauer alley, occupied by Nellie Stone and Stuart, as she is sometimes called. After he had stood for some time in front of the window in which she was sitting, she told him to move on, calling him a greaser, and other uncomplimentary epithets. Sanchez made a movement toward his hip pocket, and the woman turned to run into the room in the rear. Before she reached the door, however, Sanchez fired a shot at her, striking the blind. The bullet ranged upward and lodged in the partition between the two rooms at a height of about five and one-half feet from the floor. The woman's head was not a foot from the path of the leaden missile, and she was so frightened that she ran out the back door, and on up the street for some distance. Officer Sawyer happened to be standing near by, and ran toward the sound of the shot, meeting the Mexican on the way. Sanchez started to draw his gun on the officer, but Sawyer got the drop on him, and told him if he made a move he would be shot. The Mexican accordingly surrendered himself, and was taken to the Police Station in the patrol wagon.

Several dollars were found in his pockets, and on a letter which was taken from him was the name Thomas and the address, Los Nietos. This was thought by the officers to be the man's real name. The revolver with which he fired the shot is an old-style Colt, 44-caliber. All of the chambers except one were full, one containing an empty shell.

When asked at the station why he fired the shot, Sanchez said the woman had thrown dirty water in his face and eyes, and he had shot at her in retaliation. He was very much surprised at his arrest, and said he did not think a man should be called to account for such a little thing as shooting at a woman, especially if he did not hit her.

A DISAGREEABLE DUTY. GRACEFULLY PERFORMED BY MINISTER MARISCAL.

He Signed Away Mexico's Claim to Sovereignty in Belize Because He Found it to be Untenable—Only One Thing to Do.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.] CITY OF MEXICO, April 23.—The citizens of Yucatan are sending by wire their thanks to President Diaz for the final settlement of the Belize boundary dispute, by means of the treaty just ratified. Foreign Minister Mariscal, in a speech during the recent session of the Senate, at which the treaty was ratified, said that the question of the rights of England in Belize could not be discussed, for the reason that that power refused to discuss them. He added:

"It would have been impossible for us to enter into a discussion, except by means such as Venezuela resorted to beginning by breaking off of diplomatic relations with the English government and sacrificing the immense advantages of our credit in Europe and ending by falling under the tutelage of the United States, which would make the treaty in our name, and appoint arbitrators to act for us, as for Venezuela. This is the only thing possible, and at this sacrifice we should not be sure that arbitration would go in our favor, as their rights are much clearer than ours, as they claim actual possession, which is more than we can do. The result of arbitration would be against Mexico without doubt, for, on legal grounds, Mexico has no solid reasons for claiming sovereignty in Belize."

The Minister declared to the Senate that he had, in his long diplomatic and ministerial career, never performed a more ungrateful duty than that of signing this treaty. "But one's fulfillment of duty cannot always be pleasant," he added. "The settlement of the question might have been indefinitely postponed, but it seemed best for all interests that it be ended. The treaty will put a stop to the illicit trade in mahogany and will prevent Belize being made a base of operations of depredating Indians. Mexico recalls, however, that in 1848, when the Indians were in insurrection, British colonists in Belize sold arms and ammunition to the Indians, who laid waste a great part of Yucatan."

The Minister characterized this as a crime against humanity and said this undoubtedly tended to enhance erroneous ideas on the part of the Mexicans regarding their territorial rights. The publication of the Minister's speech has served to allay criticism.

A METHODICAL SHOOTER.

Ira Stansbury Protects His "Rights" with a Revolver.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.] ST. LOUIS (Mo.) April 23.—James E. Thorp, a motorman, was shot by Ira Stansbury in front of the City Hall today. Stansbury was in a buggy, driving on the track. Thorp ran an electric car up behind the buggy and sounded the gong for Stansbury to get off the track. Stansbury was driving fast and refused to turn out. Thorp ran his car up to the buggy and bumped it off the track. Stansbury dispassionately lowered the hood of his buggy, produced a revolver from under the seat and deliberately shot the motorman through the thigh.

When arrested by an astonished policeman, Stansbury was perfectly calm. He said he has as much right on the street as the car, and that no motorman had any franchise to run him down. Stansbury is 77 years old, and has been a resident of St. Louis for sixty years. Twenty years ago he was proprietor of the largest saddlery and harness establishment in the city.

April 23.—The sewer-pipe manufacturers of Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York, who practically control the industry in this country, have effected a combination, or trust, by which they hope to effectively regulate the output of sewer pipe and its market price throughout the country. As the result of today's meeting here, attended by six representative manufacturers, the Central Union Sewer Pipe Company has been incorporated under the laws of Ohio, with a capital stock of $7,500,000. In this one organization forty-four big manufacturing firms have merged their interests.

On account of some unfortunate experiences I had in the extraction of my teeth I became a great coward in this respect. Today Dr. Schiffman extracted one of my very refractory teeth without causing me one particle of pain. D. K. TRASK, Attorney, Fulton Block.

I can testify that the extracting of a tooth by Dr. Schiffman's method need not be attended by any pain. He surely does it without pain. REV. S. L. WHITE, December 10, 1894. Pastor Boyle Heights Holiness Church.

CITY BRIEFS.

Notice is hereby given that until 10 o'clock a.m. of Monday, April 26, 1897, the undersigned City Clerk of the city of Los Angeles will receive proposals for the furnishing of typewritten copies of the alphabetical lists of the names of the residents of the city of Los Angeles. Said copies to be two in number, one original and one manifold. Proposals must specify the amount proposed for printing the original copy, and the amount proposed for furnishing the manifold copy. Proposals must be for so much per sheet of sixty names each. For further information apply to the undersigned, C. H. Hance, City Clerk.

Who leads? Why, Desmond in the Bryson Block, No. 141, South Spring street, of course. You won't have any doubt on this point if you look at his stock of summer hats, shirts, underwear, collars, cuffs, etc. It's so tempting. The prices are so tempting. View the matter in any light you please. Desmond leads, evidently, and by long odds. The whole problem of economy will be easily solved by a study of the prices at this special sale today. His elegant horse, Dombey, saddle and bridle, is to be given away next Monday at 3 p.m. Call and tell Mr. Desmond where you desire him sent.

The complete and authentic story of La Fiesta de Los Angeles is told in the special Fiesta Edition of The Times, issued Sunday, April 25. There are forty-four pages, and a four-page lithographed and colored page is illustrated with between 100 and 200 pictures of fiesta scenes, which are described in from ten to twelve pages of graphic text, the whole forming one of the most complete and attractive special editions ever issued. The price of the paper is 4 cents, and the postage on each copy is 4 cents.

If you have a photograph that you want enlarged three-quarters life size and elegantly framed without its costing a penny, all you need do is to be come a subscriber to the Los Angeles Times and pay one year in advance for the same.

A Fiesta Concert.
A La Fiesta concert, with an excellent programme of classic and popular music, was given Thursday evening in the Greater People's Store by the full Seventh Regiment Band, under the direction of George Cannan. The big store was thrown open to the public, and in a little while it was jammed with the biggest crowd ever gathered at the store. Policemen were on duty, keeping the crowd from forcing an entrance. The music was much appreciated and the carnival decorations of the store greatly admired.

The programme included:
• Grand march from "The Prophet" (Meyerbeer).
• Overture, "Rienzi" (Wagner).
(a) Intermezzo from "Pagliacci" (Leoncavallo).
(b) Pilgrim chorus from "Tannhauser" (Wagner).
Fantasia on "My Old Kentucky Home," with variations for different instruments (Balby).

Overture, "Maximilian Robespierre" (descriptive of the reign of terror). (Litolff).
"Polpourri," selected from the comic opera, "Red Hussar".
"Paul Jones and Poor Jonathan" (arranged by Theo. Moser).

Hungarian Rhapsody No. 2 (Liszt).
(a) Patrol, "Sultan's Guard" (Josephine Gro.). (b) Finale, "Trolley Gallop" (L. P. Laundreau).

Wanted Two Much Room.
Police Captain Roberts was walking on Spring street, between First and Second, last night about 9 o'clock, in company with his wife and little boy, when a young man who gave his name as James Wilson rudely pushed against Mrs. Roberts and refused to let her pass. Capt. Roberts told him to step to the right and let them pass, and as Wilson did not do so, pushed him out of the way with his hand.

Wilson retaliated, and a fight was for the moment imminent. Roberts pulled a pair of handcuffs from his pocket and struck at Wilson, missing him, and inflicting a slight wound on his own hand. When Wilson saw the handcuffs he gave up, and Roberts placed him under arrest and took him to the Police Station, where he was locked up on a charge of disturbing the peace. Two friends who were with him went out to get $20, which was the sum at which Roberts fixed his bail, but as they were unable to raise the amount, Wilson spent the night behind the bars.

BOY HORSE-THIEVES.

TWO BOYS ARRESTED AND HELD ON A SERIOUS CHARGE.

Found with a Horse in Their Possession Which Was Stolen from Mrs. B. H. Harbert Last Tuesday. One Boy Confesses.

Two boys, about 10 and 12 years old, respectively, are locked in the City Jail and a charge of grand larceny is opposite their names on the clerk's register.

Last Tuesday Mrs. Harbert, the wife of B. H. Harbert, who lives about three miles from Jefferson street on New Main street, drove into town with a single rig, and hitched her horse to a tree on Los Angeles street, just below Sixth street. About 4 o'clock in the afternoon she returned and found that the horse and buggy had been stolen. Last night Mrs. Harbert's fourteen-year-old son, Goldie, was eating in a restaurant on Fifth street, near Main, when he saw two boys riding by on his father's horse, the one which had been stolen.

The boy at once rushed into the street and caught the horse by the bridle. The riders, who afterward proved to be the ones who had stolen the animal, jumped from the horse and attacked young Harbert. He held his own with them, however, until help showed up in the person of Officer Walker, who arrested the juvenile horse-thieves. When brought to the Police Station they gave their names as Willie Freeburg and Willie Lenart. The former was about 12 years old and the latter about 10.

Harbert, the man who owns the horse, accompanied the youngsters to the station and identified the horse and the bridle which was on it when young Harbert found it. Harbert was inclined to be very indulgent over the matter, as his wife had been compelled to walk home, a distance of six miles. Freeburg wore a cape overcoat when arrested, and when searched was discovered to have a pair of light stirrups and several brass horse nozzles concealed on his person.

Freeburg was locked up at once, and the Lenart boy went with an officer and Harbert to show them where his youthful pal had taken the buggy and harness and kept the horse. The boy said that Freeburg had stolen hay on which to feed the animal. The buggy was found in a shed on Sanchez street, in Chinatown, but the harness could not be discovered. The officers at the Police Station say the Lenart boy has been in jail recently for a petty offense.

Bankers' Association.
An excursion around the Kite-shaped Track was tendered the California Bankers' Association Thursday by the Los Angeles Clearing-house. The party was driven through Redlands and out to Smiley Heights, and afterward was banqueted at the Casa Loma. In the afternoon the trip was continued to Riverside. The bankers were driven down Magnolia avenue to Casa Blanca, where they took the train for Los Angeles, after some informal speech-making.

Lost at the Park.
Shortly before 12 o'clock last night T. D. Holladay, who lives at No. 724 East Ninth street, called at the Police Station and reported that his bay mare and phaeton were stolen, or that the mare had strayed from where she was tied just outside West Lake Park. No report as to the whereabouts of the horse had been made at the station.

YOU CAN'T SEE CALIFORNIA
Unless you try the Kite-shaped track. Tickets permit stop-overs. Observation buffet car leaves Los Angeles 8:15 a.m., Pasadena 8:42 a.m., returning at 6:05 p.m. Stops are made at both Redlands and Riverside for sight-seeing. Descriptive pamphlets at Santa Fe ticket offices.

Trusting that others may find that relief which I have experienced through your treatment. I am very gratefully yours," "R. S. DYAS," "404 South Broadway, Los Angeles."

"After three months' treatment you pronounced my lungs cured. I cannot say too much in favor of your improved Koch treatment and would most heartily recommend anyone suffering from lung trouble to lose no time in making your acquaintance." "Very gratefully yours," "MRS. A. E. TORREY," "1222 W. Twenty-fourth st., Los Angeles." Call at the office for further references and testimonials.

FRAGRANCE of flowers, waving of banners, prancing of horses, fair women and dainty children embowered in bloom, masses upon masses of cheering men and women—in such wise was the Day of the Flowers celebrated before La Reina de la Fiesta. It was a splendid success, and the people who packed the tribunes from top to bottom and filled all the seats of the annex and overflowed the streets round about—thousands upon thousands there were—applauded the splendid pageant with enthusiasm. Every body had a good time, even the woman who was in a tremor of fear all the afternoon lest a flag pole blow down with her escort she looks as she passes underneath the arch of flags. That it was only the "battle of flowers," a day of merry peace and jolly good will, was proven when a camera fiend set his tripod on the steps to the throne and pointed his instrument at the Queen and her court. For Her Majesty's body guard did not charge the intruder and trample him under their horses' feet, but set their lances at rest and looked sorrowfully on as, with a "now-look-pleasant-please" expression he glanced critically at the court and adjusted his plates. Fortunately he finished his work before the next scene in the pageant and can congratulate himself that there was no hitch in the programme on his account.

massed with flowers, seats, bodies, wheels, covered with bloom, filled with dainty, pretty girls, drawn by prancing horses, groomed to their skins outshone their satin-covered harness—another and another, each more beautiful than the next, and still more and more, bowing and saluting, they sweep past the Queen, they circle the inclosure and wind in and out; pink and blue and yellow and green, and white and red—masses of color—a magnificent pageant. One wishes for a dozen eyes to see it all at once and see it more and more. And when at last they are all gone, even to the tiny girl in the tiny cart of red carnations drawn by a fine, big red-collared dog—hark, a clatter of hoofbeats, and—viva! the caballeros! Right splendid they are, as they come galloping up the oval, green velvet coats and red sashes glowing and gold embroidery glittering. A splendid cavalcade, and right dashing they ride and draw sudden rein that sends their horses back on their haunches—their peaked sombreros are swinging in the air, and they "viva la Reina, viva, viva!" Madly they ride round and round, and their horses dance and prance, and then they swing their hats in salute, and then, with flutter of sashes and jingle of spurs, they are gone. Once more the packed crowds of people around the gates fall back, and the floral procession returns to receive the prizes. And now the fun begins. There has been a little desultory throwing of flowers before, but it begins now with a vim. With cries and shouts and hurrahs and laughter the flowers are tossed back and forth until the air is filled with their fragrance. Slowly they file past the throne and receive their

J. Coleman; first lieutenant, H. Ramel; second lieutenant, C. H. Cole. The battalion was headed by its drum and bugle corps, under the leadership of the drum major, George H. Frost, who wore an imposing bushy of pampas plumes. Straight up to the foot of the throne came the splendid "White Company," and then counter-marched in platoons of nine, while the royal carriages, preceded and surrounded by the Fiesta Lancers, came into the great amphitheater. Her Majesty's carriage was draped in white satin banners, and garlanded with white and yellow roses, and was drawn by four magnificent bay horses, harnessed in white satin. The carriages of the court ladies were decorated, as usual, in pampas plumes, with floating streamers of delicately-tinted ribbon. After the royal cavalcade had swept around the field, it halted in the center, while the Americus Club counter-marched in double files, spaced, and closed up in front on either side, with the colors in front, flanked by the club banner of white silk, fringed and lettered with gold, and an airy wheel of gold and green lacework bearing the words, "Pasadena Americus Club, outlined in flowers. The eight officers formed at the foot of the staircase and the serried ranks to meet the Queen whose carriage was drawn up at the end of the long white carpet that extended from the stairs for some distance out into the field. There they presented arms and saluted, and as the Queen made ready to descend from her carriage, the officers returned by four to the foot of the stairs, where they again drew up on either side. The lances, with their fluttering silken pennons, were crossed into an arch, and under this came Queen Francesca, bowing to the applauding crowds, who rose to greet her.

ENTRY OF THE QUEEN. The Queen appeared yesterday in a rich gown of cream and golden yellow brocade satin, in fern-leaf pattern. The court train was of plain golden yellow satin, bordered with ermine and lined with cream-white satin. The front of the waist was of yellow satin veiled with embroidered chiffon, studded with yellow gems, and the Medici collar was of yellow satin covered with the chiffon and edged with pearls. The top of the waist was finished with a yoke of yellow satin ruffles and jewels. A jacket effect was produced by the white and edged with pearls. The skirt was of white satin, lined with yellow satin, and studded with yellow stones. Her Majesty's wrap, which was carried by one of the gentlemen-in-waiting, was a graceful cape of white brocade satin lined with plain white satin and finished with a flaring collar of white and edged with pearls. Beneath which was a ruche of white chiffon caught at the back with a large bow of white satin ribbon. The front was also finished with the ostrich feathers. Her maids of honor followed two by two, dainty and bewitching as ever in their picture hats and frocks, and saluted Her Majesty with the usual deep curtsies as they came before the throne and grouped themselves on either side. As so soon as the throne was established the Americus Club interfiled, forming an open square, closed in, and marched by platoons to the north end of the arena, with the band in the lead. Thunders of applause followed the perfect evolutions of this superbly-drilled battalion, which executed every movement with a precision only to be obtained by long training. After a full circuit of the field by platoons, the battalion pivoted in squares of four deep and four abreast, and marched through the aisle made by the first platoon, forming to the right and left with crossed lances before the throne. Then this came Max Meyberg, founder of La Fiesta, accompanied by the fiesta committee of 1894, 1895 and 1896, and about fifty of the leading merchants of Los Angeles. In this goodly company was borne the magnificent fiesta banner, a splendid affair of heavy satin, with fool's masks upon long truncheons, and a field of green, across which was embroidered in letters of gold, "La Fiesta de Los Angeles." The banner and streamers of satin ribbon were in the fiesta colors, the softened shades of the wine, olive and orange blending with exquisitely rich effect. Mr. Meyberg saluted the Queen, and then, on behalf of the three committees, offered for Her Majesty's acceptance a superb floral piece, a large picture embossed in pink and white sweet peas and pink roses, framed with lavender sweet peas and callas. Prime Minister Thomas read the Queen's gracious acceptance of the offering, and her congratulations, to the donors for their work for La Fiesta. The gentlemen then counter-marched and saluted Her Majesty as they passed to their places. The Fiesta Lancers then approached and ranged themselves on either side of the stairs, while the Americus Club counter-marched again in five files, closing in and forming platoons of eight. They then went into a beautiful manual drill with their lances, closing and opening their ranks, and then returning in close ranks to the throne, where they separated into two companies to welcome the Floral Queen, and took up position along either side of the tribunes.

FIRST DIVISION. Americus Club as Her Majesty's Guard of Honor. As the guard of honor to the Queen, the Americus Club of Pasadena, was one of the most striking features of floral day. The famous marching club is even more perfect now than it was last fall, when its wonderful training filled all Southern California with admiration. It was nearly 3 o'clock before the trumpets sounded at the gate, and Grand Marshal Madison T. Owens, with his aides, Col. William O. Welsh, Col. W. G. Schreiber and Maj. J. D. Fredericks, came across the inclosure to the throne, followed by Division Marshal Solano, with his aides, Sergt. Flske, Sergt. Bogalsky, Corp. Martin and four troopers of the National Guard. The Pasadena Band preceded the Americus Club, as it marched straight up from the gates, an imposing band in its uniform of white, with bars and stripes of gold. The white caps were ornamented with gold bands set thick with yellow marguerites, and the men all wore yellow leggings, and carried lances with small silk national flags. The officers of the battalion are: Major, N. S. Barnham; staff adjutant, Edwin Stearns; surgeon, J. W. Wood; commissary, Horace M. Dobbins; ordnance officer, John McDonald; judge-advocate, John G. Rossiter; aides, G. A. Gibbs, W. E. Chapin; non-commissioned staff sergeant-major, J. C. Brainerd; quartermaster-sergeant, A. L. Manahan; commissary sergeant, W. C. Smith; ordnance sergeant, George A. Greeley; color sergeants, A. B. Case, Calvin Hartwell; drum major, George H. Frost; color corporals, John M. York, H. R. Sutcliffe; markers, F. M. York, K. W. Dyer, B. H. Chadwick; her with its load of dainty little human blossoms than in the night parade. The glittering, rococo frame sparkled bravely in the sunlight, and the voluminous, of fairest blue, held in place by garlands of roses, floated out in the breeze like summer clouds hovering over the fluffy masses of pink and white. The chariot was drawn by six white horses, harnessed in pink satin and roses, and driven by Master Keith Vosburg, a tiny lad with flowing fair hair, who was dressed as Cupid in white and silver, with wings of glittering silver gauze. Little Miss Sallie McFarland, the Flower Queen, wore a dainty frock of white organdie, fluffed from hem to waist with narrow, tucked ruffles of the same material, edged with narrow valenciennes lace. The full waist was made of alternate rows of valenciennes insertion and rows of valenciennes insertion and orzandie, and the shoulder puffs were covered with narrow lace-edged frills. The petticoats were ruffled after the floral Queen's float and the living bouquets. Grand Marshal Herman R. Hertel commanded the second division, his aides being C. C. Brown, M. H. Wright, C. J. Crandall, E. H. Royce and Dr. W. W. Prittie. This division was led by the Seventh Regiment Band, and marched into the amphitheater while the Americus Club was still marching and counter-marching, resting on the right side of the inclosure until the ceremonies at the throne were finished. Preceding the float of the little Floral Queen was a group of twenty living bouquets. This unique idea was suggested and carried out by Count von Schmidt, who had seen a similar device at a floral fete in Nice. The effect was exceedingly odd, and attractive, and shouts of applause came from all directions as the huge clusters of flowers cavorted about on as many pairs of active legs. The bouquets were modeled after old formal fashion of the last generation, when the ideal arrangement was a tight, hard bunch of flowers, arranged in stiff circles on a platter of lace paper, and stuffed into a holder. In the present case, the bouquets were fifteen feet in circumference, and the cylindrical holders of pasteboard inclosed each a small boy, whose legs served for stems. Breathing spaces were cut in the pasteboard, and at each hole appeared fashion of the skirt. A broad white satin ribbon formed the belt; the stockings were of white silk, and the shoes of white satin finished with rhinestone buckles. A white satin parasol covered with accordion-pleated frills, edged with rows of narrow white satin ribbon, completed the costume. The small maids of honor were all dressed alike in charming fluffy frocks of white, with broad hats of delicate pink mull, pink silk stockings and high-heeled pink satin slippers and pink sashes and ribbons. Each one carried a pretty basket of flowers, tied with streamers of pink ribbon. The little court ladies were Josephine Gay, Florence Austin, Wheeler, Juliet Borden, Eleanor K. Eness, Marguerite Bishop Gilbert, Florence Newmark, Mildred Burnett, Marie Reichert, Glenn Edwards, Evelyn Morrill, Marie Louise Holliday, Alice Emily Cline, Tillie Baruch, Edna Newmark. The Americus Club was still drawn

Majesty began the upward climb over the flowers scattered in her path by her little maids. Still up, past her own throne, until at last she reached the royal dais, where she knelt before the Queen. Her Majesty rose and came forward with the pretty wreath in her hand, and her smile was like the sunshine as she bent and kissed the dimpled, baby face before setting the flower crown on the soft, dark curls. The crowd cheered itself hoarse, and the little Queen of Flowers, now regally crowned, turned and went down to her throne, into which she was lifted by the ever-attentive Prime Minister. She had clung to her little parasol through all these exciting experiences, and the crowning touch was put on the pretty scene when one of Her Majesty's pages ran down and took the fluffy bit of silk and lace, which he carefully held over the curly head through all the long parade. Cupid came up the stair and had a a grinning, impish face, which usually stuck its tongue out at the applauding spectators. At the head of this quaint procession marched a boy dressed in a gay satin uniform of fiesta colors, and following it was a cluster of dome-shaped cartonniers, wheeling a little cart with kegs of water for the refreshment of both flowers and boys. The twenty bouquets were formed, respectively, of pink sweet peas, scarlet geraniums and white marguerites, deep crimson roses, carnations in all colors, yellow poppies and white marguerites, flame-colored nasturtiums, scarlet geraniums, and orange blossoms, scarlet geraniums and mariposa lilies, brodiaea, and La Marque roses, and pink geraniums. Three of the bouquets were of white marguerites, massed solidly, three were of yellow marguerites, three of marigolds, and one of all sorts of flowers, mixed in the stiff, old-fashioned way.

QUEEN OF FLOWERS. Cinderella's beautiful coach of state was used yesterday for the tiny Queen of Flowers and her miniature court of fourteen wee maids of honor. If possible, the splendid float was even lovelier up before the throne when the coach of the Flower Queen drove up. The living bouquet fell in behind the club, forming a long aisle, through which the little Queen and her court had to pass before they reached the arch of flags and lances that protected the way to the throne. Just before the coach halted, a pretty little arm chair, covered with carnations, had been carried up the stair, and planted midway between the throne and the platform. Cheer upon cheer arose as the royal coach stopped with its pretty freight, the smiling baby maids were hurried toward Her Majesty like flowers to the sun. A cloud of little white handkerchiefs fluttered like butterflies, waved energetically by the dimpled little fists, until the Prime Minister, with two gentlemen-in-waiting, went down to help the wee ladies to alight. The lively strains of the "Fiesta March" crashed out, the lances with their fluttering flags formed the arch, and, two by two, the fairy court came stepping daintily up the living aisle to the platform at the foot of the stair, the little ones holding their baskets in a grip of desperation as they glanced timidly up at the laughing, cheering cheer all to himself as he sat down on the step just below his small liege lady, carefully setting his wings out of harm's way. All was ready now and as the bugle rang out the signal for the parade, the first coaches dashed up before the throne.

THE PRESIDENT'S CARRIAGE. A mass of flame-colored was the pretty trap of Ferdinand K. Rule, the president of La Fiesta of 1897, and it received thunders of applause as it drew up for a moment before the throne. The entire vehicle, wheels and all, was covered solidly with marigolds, tied with floating streamers of orange sash ribbon. The gray horses were harnessed in orange satin, with wide collars and girths of marigolds. W. W. Sylvester handled the ribbons, and Mr. Rule sat beside him. Both gentlemen were dressed in white duck, with orange neckties, badges and hatbands. On the back seat of the trap were Mrs. Rule, Mrs. Gertrude Devereaux and Miss Susie Gay. The three ladies were crowned nearly alike in organdie, were yellow silk, wide picture hats and white parasols, ornamented with clusters of marigold and floating knots of orange crowds before them. The Queen's smile was sweet graciousness itself, so the babies plucked up their courage and smiled back as they made their chubby little bows and funny curtsies before toiling up the stair, cruelly low and high for the little fat legs in the pink stockings. At last they were all arranged about the miniature throne of carnations, their rosy faces turned expectantly toward the little Flower Queen. That young lady had firmly refused to climb down from her lofty perch until she saw her court properly arranged. In vain did the Prime Minister exhaust his blandishments; she disdained to notice his extended arms until she had satisfied herself that everything was in order for her reception. Then she allowed herself to be lifted down, and marched up through the long lines of soldiery, clinging to the Minister's hand as he bent smilingly over her and apparently oblivious to everything but the fair Queen on the distant throne. After her curtsy at the foot of the stair, Her Tiny ribbon. Cheers greeted the brilliant trap as, after the salute to Her Majesty, it was driven slowly around the circle of the tribunes. SIX-IN-HAND. Four beautiful six-in-hand coaches from Pasadena completed this division. The first was entered by the Tuesday Evening Club, and was all in yellow and white. The body of the coach was covered with yellow marguerites, and long ropes of the same flowers decorated the harness of the six horses, and were held by the outriders. In front of the coach rode Master Elliott Howe, costumed in white tights and yellow silk trunks. He wore a short yellow cloak trimmed heavily with silver, and his broad, plumed hat was of yellow, white and silver. The saddle-blanket was of yellow marguerites, and the horse wore a broad collar and parting-gale of smilax and marguerites. The six outriders, Messrs. A. Mercer, W. Hansen, A. Chamberlain, D. Heap, W. D. Burnham and O. F. Burger, were dressed in white duck with yellow sashes and hatbands, and rode horse on her head, or some horse run away, or some one get hit in the eye with a bouquet, or one of the children fall off its horse. The wind which was nerve-racking on the streets was broken by the high wall of the tribunes just enough to make it a refreshing breeze inside the inclosure, and to give life and animation to the scene by the waving and fluttering of flags and banners.

The long oval of the tribunes was a solid mass of humanity, gay with pretty dresses and bright parasols, when the great gates were flung open and with a flourish of music the Americus Club, the Queen's own escort, entered. Line

THE THRONE AT THE TRIBUNES.

Doubtless it is true that all the world loves a lover, but all the world keeps the tenderest spot in its heart for the children. And all the tribunes went wild with delight when the gorgeous coach of the little Floral Queen and her court drove up. Dressed all in white with pink tulle hats, they looked a nest of little, fluttering pink-winged birds, cuddled among gauzy, shimmering draperies. Ten thousand hearts went out to them as they curtsied up the steps and clustered around the flower-decked throne of their little Queen. And she, bless her baby heart, there was not a six-year-old in all the vast crowd looked more at home, more comfortable, and more unconscious than little Queen

And when one of Queen Francesca's pages stood beside her holding her tiny parasol with boyish gallantry and the little golden-haired, fairy-like driver of her fairy coach sat at her feet, the sight was so entrancing that another camera fiend unfolded his apparatus at the foot of the steps. At last, through the wide gates swept the head of the floral procession, and a murmur of pleasure and a patter of applause fluttered along the packed seats. Coach after coach they came,

RANDSBURG RAILROAD.

LINE TO BE BUILT FROM KRAMER
TO BALLARAT, INYO COUNTY.Company Organized Under Laws of Arizona—Work to Begin at Once and the Road to Be Operated Within Three Months.

Randsburg is to have a railroad at last. The proposed line will not run direct from Los Angeles, nor is it to start from Mojave, but will run from Kramer, on the line of the Atlantic and Pacific in San Bernardino county to Ballarat in Inyo county, passing through Randsburg. Surveying of the twenty-six miles between Kramer and Randsburg will begin next week, and it is confidently asserted by the projectors of the scheme that this portion of the road will be in active service by July 15. The ties and rails have already been contracted for, and will be ready for delivery by the time the right-of-way has been surveyed. As many men as can be conveniently handled will be put to work immediately, and the project will be pushed with all the speed possible compatible with good work.

The California Northern Railway Company, the name adopted by the projectors, is incorporated under the laws of Arizona, with a capital stock of $1,500,000, of which it is claimed $102,000 has already been subscribed. The incorporators of the company are Messrs. M. C. Marsh, James Campbell, F. R. Frost, Charles Wier, A. A. Daugherty, John T. Jones, Walter Rose, Ross T. Hickox and Carl Leonard. Of this city Mr. T. H. Hoffman of Yuma and C. E. Crowley of Phoenix. The board of directors consists of all the incorporators with the exception of A. A. Daugherty and R. T. Hickox. Mr. Daugherty returned to this city only a few days ago, from New York, where he was engaged in placing the proposed scheme before the public.

The Doctor's Examination.

How many hours do you sleep during the twenty-four?
Two hours, doctor.
Have you been in the habit of retiring at a regular hour previous to your sickness?
No, doctor.
Have you a disposition to sleep during the day?
No, doctor.
Do you feel restless and despondent?
Yes, doctor.
You say that you feel as though you would never regain your constitution?
Yes, doctor.
Is insanity hereditary either on your father or mother's side?
No, doctor.
Do you take opiates?
No, doctor.
Insomnia or loss of sleep is always the result of some abnormal condition of the system in general. What is necessary in your case is to put all the organs to work actively, so that the blood will circulate freely and not stagnate or remain in the brain. Your nervous system needs attention. I will write you a prescription, and when you ask your druggist for the remedy, take nothing else.

We Are Forced to Quit Tonight.

We are compelled to close our business career tonight, by a force of circumstances over which we had, absolutely, no control. The mandates of the Superior Court of this County had to be obeyed. On Monday morning, at 10 o'clock, the auctioneers engaged for the occasion will sell at PUBLIC AUCTION, in one entire lot, all the merchandise there is left of a once $40,000 stock; the fixtures, the lease, and all, to the highest bidder for cash, and that will be all there will be left of the
